GERMANS HAMMER WARSAW

London, July 30.—Warsaw, the third city of Russia, and the goal for which the German armies in the East have been striving since October, is at last in the throes of abandonment.

Germans in overwhelming numbers are at the gates of the Polish capital, and dispatches from that city itself and from Petrograd say that further resistance would be unwise.

Discounted not only through France and Great Britain, but in Russia itself, the fall of the city is expected hourly, and the problem now is to move the Russian armies intact, threatened as they are from the south by Austro-Germans and more seriously from the north, where the German forces, which have swept through Poland, are aiming at the railway from Warsaw to Petrograd.

This latter menace, the British press admits is imminent, and the fate in the allied country now is not for the safety of Warsaw, but for the continued cohesion of the Russian army.

The Warsaw post-office already has been shifted to some point to the eastward, the populace has been warned to remain calm, and presumably for days Russian troops have been stripping the city of everything of value.

Germans aviators are hovering over the city, and according to German advices, plans have been completed for the triumphant entrance of the German emperor, accompanied by his consort.

With Warsaw captured, whether or not it proves a conquest of last strategic advantage, a great wave of enthusiasm will sweep over Germany and Austria-Hungary, and it is predicted here that the armies of the central powers will then seek to force a period of trench warfare, meanwhile showing a great force of men and guns, with the idea of resuming the battering towards Calais, and perhaps toward Paris.

SPRAGUE'S NURSE BILL IS TO BE LAW MONDAY

Columbus, July 30.—Preliminary notices to carry out the provisions of the new nurses' registration law were sent out today by the state medical board. The law will go into effect Monday, and nurses who desire the title "R. N.," standing for "Registered Nurse," will have to file with the medical board between that time and January 1, their diplomas and also applications on blanks. These blanks, the board had ready today. Examinations would be required after the first of next year. The examination fee is $10.

Nurses' organizations fought for such a law before the last legislature in order to place Ohio nurses on a par with members of the profession in other states where a system of registration and regulation of nurses is maintained.

Graduates of recognized training schools will not have to take examinations for registration, providing they file their diplomas and comply with other formal requirements before January 1. A preliminary educational certificate would be required of all applicants not matriculated in a recognized training school before May 1, 1915. Exemption from the necessity of examination will be granted to students matriculated in recognized training schools before June 1, 1913. The law permits reciprocity with other states which maintain equal standards.

The nurses' registration law bears the name of Representative William K. Sprague, of Portsmouth, O., as author.

"I'll Never Rest Until I've Exposed Methods Used To Convict Charles," Says Mrs. Becker

Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, N. Y., July 30.—A statement credited to Mrs. Becker was given out here shortly after her husband's death.

"I shall never rest," she was quoted as saying, "until I have exposed the methods which were used to convict my husband. Whether he was guilty or not there was no justification for the means employed to convict him. I would rather lose all other members of my family, as dear as they are, than lose Charles. No one can take his place. In all of the ten years of our married life I never had occasion once to regret that I was his wife.

"Charles was no angel. He made no pretense of being one. He was just an ordinary human being—and perhaps that is why I loved him so."

Dr. W. O. Stillman, of Auburn, who assisted in the Becker execution, said Becker showed unusual resistance to the electric fluid. After the autopsy Dr. Stillman said:

"I noticed no unusual effects upon Becker's vital organs. The way he resisted the strong current was remarkable, showing him to be an unusually powerful man."

It was expected that Becker's body will be removed some time today to New York, where funeral services will probably be held on Sunday.

Expects Indictments In Eastland Probe

Chicago, July 30.—State's Attorney Hoyne intimated at noon today that a number of indictments charging manslaughter and criminal carelessness might be returned before the close of the day against persons held responsible for the steamer Eastland disaster in which more than a thousand lives were lost.

It was said that several federal officials might be included in the list of those indicted. The July state grand jury must adjourn before midnight tomorrow under the law, and the state attorney is anxious to have it conclude its investigation of the horror today, if possible.

Additional witnesses were examined by the body during the afternoon.

The special federal grand jury umpired by Judge K. M. Landis to investigate the Eastland, began the examination of witnesses.

"We propose to investigate everybody and every circumstance connected with the wreck as directed by the attorney general and Judge Landis," said Charles F. Kline, United States district attorney who had charge of the federal grand jury investigation.

Adam J. Weckler, city harbor master, the first witness called by the federal grand jury is said to have repeated the story he told at the coroner's inquest when he said the boat was overloaded.

Weckler saw the Eastland overturn and but a few minutes before had refused to let the boat leave the dock until she was evenly balanced. He shouted to the captain that the vessel was listing badly.

William H. Hull, vice president and general manager of the St. Joseph, Chicago, Steamship Co., owners of the Eastland, with his counsel, Charles B. Krömer was in the federal building this morning. Neither would make any statement.

AMERICANS KILLED

Washington, July 30.—Two American marines on guard at Port au Prince, Haiti, were killed this afternoon in a rebel riot.

Washington, July 30.—The gunboat Nashville was sent from San Domingo to Cape Haitien today.

Secretary Lansing announced that a committee of public safety, organized in Port au Prince, Haiti, has taken charge of the capital and is conducting the de facto government. After a conference with American naval officers and the American charge d'affaires, the committee decided upon disarmament of the city, which began yesterday.

OHIO FIRM REFUSES BIG WAR ORDER

Fremont, O., July 30.—The Glass Shear Works and the Jackson Knife and Shear Works of this city yesterday turned down an order from the United States government for $2,000,000 worth of bayonets. No reason was given for the rejection.

HONORS REQUISITION

Columbus, July 30.—Governor Willis today honored a requisition from the governor of Florida for the return to that state of Lonnie Lewis to answer to a charge of murder. Lewis is now under arrest in Toledo. He is wanted in Alachua county, Florida.

BROWN RECOVERING

Chicago, July 30.—Mordecai Brown, pitcher of the Chicago Federals who is ill at a local hospital is slowly recovering according to the attending physician. Manager Tinker believes Brown will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

LIFTS SUSPENSION

Kansas City, July 30.—The suspension of George Stovall, manager of the local Federal League Club was today lifted by President Gilmore off the league so that Stovall could play in tomorrow's game here, which will be "Stovall Day." Stovall was suspended as the result of a fistie encounter with Umpire Corcoran in a recent game here.

Mrs. Becker Well Despite Execution

New York, July 30.—Returning from her last visit to the death house at Sing Sing prison, where she had taken her farewell of her husband, Mrs. Charles Becker arrived at the Becker home in the Bronx at 2:40 a. m. today. She was accompanied by one of Becker's brothers, who half carried her into the house. Mrs. Becker showed evidences of the deep distress she was undergoing. No effort was made to question about her visit to Sing Sing. She was met by her sister, Mrs. Mary Lynch.

Mrs. Becker, according to her brother, John Lynch, was bearing up well today after the strain she underwent yesterday and last night.

Mrs. Becker is resting at her home today and is not expected to see any one except members of her family.

An undertaker was dispatched today to Ossining to get the body of Charles Becker. The funeral, it was announced will take place Monday. High requiem mass will be said by Rev. Nicholas Murray. Interment will be at Woodlawn cemetery.

WHITMAN SHOWS SIGNS OF STRAIN

Albany, N. Y., July 30.—Still showing the effects of the strain under which he has been during the last week, Governor Whitman arrived at the executive chamber about 11 o'clock this morning. He did not retire until about 2 o'clock after returning from Poughkeepsie where he heard the final plea of Mrs. Becker for her husband's life.

The governor had no comment to make on any phase of the Becker case. The letter which the former police lieutenant wrote the executive just before going to the death chair had not been received at noon today.

Mayor Frick Collects $25.00 Here To Help Starving Miners

Columbus, July 30.—State officials today turned their attention to finding work for thousands of coal miners in southern Ohio, who are idle and destitute because of shutting down of the mines. Plans were being worked out for the transportation of miners to all parts of the state where jobs can be found for them by the state free employment bureau and other agencies.

The adjutant general's department received several hundred dollars in additional contributions and dispatched another carload to Nelsonville for feeding hungry miners and their families. The Industrial Commission instructed the superintendents of free employment agencies in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Toledo, Columbus, Dayton, Akron, Youngstown, to bend all energies possible to securing work for miners. Already the Cleveland agency has sent word it has arranged to place a number of men in jobs there. It was announced that transportation would be furnished by the state for those who must leave the coal fields to find work. It was said to be possible that many miners who can do farm work will be sent into rural communities.

Forrest Tiplon, secretary to Governor Willis after returning from an inspection tour through the needy mining communities, conferred today with Industrial Commissioner Elliot and Mining Commissioner J. J. M. Roan, who immediately went to work on the employment problem. Fred C. Croxton, chief statistician of the Industrial Commission had direct charge of that work.

Simultaneously the commission tackled the task of finding work for several hundred residents of the Hardin county marsh where growing crops were completely destroyed by the flood two weeks ago. A special agent of the commission was sent to Kenton to inquire into conditions in the marsh and another representative will go to the coal fields of Southern Ohio probably tomorrow.

The adjutant general's office today had received about $2,500 for relief of miners. Among the contributions were: Mayor Adam Frick, of Portsmouth, collected from three citizens, $25; Good-year Tire and Rubber Co., Akron, $100; M. C. Lilley and Co., Columbus, $100; Anonymous, Columbus, $125; Harry M. Daugherty, Columbus, $25; Mayor Charles A. Stolberg of Canton said he was making efforts to encourage contributions there.

SURRENDERS FRANCHISE

Deatur, Ill., July 30.—The Deatur baseball management today surrendered its franchise in the "Three I League" to President Tearnay. Rainy weather which prevented games and the wrecking of the ball park grand stand by a recent tornado caused the forfeiture. Efforts will be made to place the team at Rock Island or Galesburg. Pitcher Ollie Kirmayer, formerly of the New York Giants, and Catcher George O'Brien were sold today to the St. Louis Americans for $2,500.

GOES TO DEATH IN ELECTRIC CHAIR WITH PRAYER FOR MERCY

Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, N. Y., July 30.—Charles Becker was put to death in the electric chair this morning for the killing of Herman Rosenthal, the New York gambler.

The former New York police lieutenant retained his composure and protested his innocence to the last. He went to his death with a photograph of his wife pinned over his heart.

Three shocks were given before the prison physicians pronounced Becker dead at 5:55 o'clock. Becker led the way to his own execution. The condemned man sat up all night on the edge of his cot.

Prays With Crucifix

Becker rose to his feet when he saw Johnson and took a crucifix from the hand of the prison priest. To Father Curry, Becker gave his last message as he took his place at the head of the little room of men that marched to the room of death.

Becker's message which he uttered to the priest, was:

"I am not guilty by conspiracy or in any other way of the death of Herman Rosenthal. I am sacrificed to my friends. Bear this message to the world and my friends. Amen."

The one time police officer hesitated as he entered the room. It seemed to witnesses that he was startled that the death chair was so near at hand.

He looked quickly at the double row of witnesses, glanced at the floor, swept with his eyes the whitened walls of the room, and then suddenly, as if coming to himself, walked briskly over the rubber mat and seated himself in the electric chair.

Behind Becker followed the prison priest chanting the prayer of death, which was repeated by the condemned man.

Asks God's Mercy

"Jesus, Mary, Joseph, have mercy on my soul," nervously said Becker as he stepped forward and adjusted the electric straps.

Hardly a minute elapsed before the electrode was applied to the right leg, a slit having been previously cut in the trousers leg from the knee down. After the electrode had been adjusted against a shaven spot in the back of the condemned man's head, the state's executioner looked at Deputy Warden Johnson, who surveyed the figure that was still mumbling the death prayer in the chair. Johnson half turned his head and the executioner jammed the switch.

"The first shock lasted a full minute and the executioner said that it was 1,850 volts and ten amperes in (Continued On Page Eight)

"WELL, THAT'S THE WAY BROTHER WENT, AND HE WAS GAME TOO"

The noon extra of The Times had just appeared on the streets today and a crowd was gathered in a Chillicothe street cafe discussing the execution of Becker.

No one paid particular attention to an old man standing at one end of the bar eagerly devouring every line of the account of the execution at Sing Sing. So interested was he that he commenced to reading it aloud, especially when he came to the parts where the dispatches stated that Becker went to his death gamely.

A few moments later he startled the entire assembly with this:

"Well, that's the way my brother went years ago, and he died just as game as Becker died this morning."

When asked what he meant he stated that he was a brother of Blinky Morgan, who was executed for murder at Columbus about twenty years ago. And he didn't seem to care who knew it.

"Will Meet It Quietly"

"I have got to face it," said Becker, "and I am going to meet it quietly and without trouble to any one."

The deputy warden left Becker about an hour before the time set for the execution and when the priests, Father W. E. Cashin, the prison priest, and Father Curry, of New York, came to administer the last rites they found the man who instigated Herman Rosenthal's murder, with his face resting on his hand gazing at the prison floor. The priests reminding him to the end.

It was shortly after five o'clock when the first of the witnesses of the execution began to assemble outside the prison walls. Quietly their names were checked off by Deputy Warden Johnson who directed them to take their places at a gateway that led directly to the execution chamber.

Then the witnesses were led to the place of execution in a new death house which had been built adjoining the old execution chamber, where the four gamblers were put to death over a year ago for killing Rosenthal.

When the witnesses were seated, Deputy Warden Johnson nodded to Principal Keeper Fred Durner and they left the room through a small wooden door that led to the death cells beyond where Becker was praying with his spiritual advisers.

It was shortly after five o'clock when the first of the witnesses of the execution began to assemble outside the prison walls. Quietly their names were checked off by Deputy Warden Johnson who directed them to take their places at a gateway that led directly to the execution chamber.

Then the witnesses were led to the place of execution in a new death house which had been built adjoining the old execution chamber, where the four gamblers were put to death over a year ago for killing Rosenthal.

When the witnesses were seated, Deputy Warden Johnson nodded to Principal Keeper Fred Durner and they left the room through a small wooden door that led to the death cells beyond where Becker was praying with his spiritual advisers.

BERTRAM IS FOUND GUILTY; SENTENCED TO PEN

No Evidence Given For The Defense

Imprisonment in state penitentiary for an indefinite period is the penalty Joe Bertram, 38, must pay for the slaying of Bernard Friel, Jr., 34, a shoemaker. Common Pleas Judge Thomas passed this sentence on Bertram Friday afternoon after a jury had returned a verdict of manslaughter against the accused.

When Bertram stepped into common pleas court Friday morning he faced a charge of manslaughter growing out of the fatal stabbing of Bernard Friel, Jr., on the night of June 12, 1915. The stabbing occurred at the Cropper and Hollar saloon, Eighth and Broadway, Friel stabbed in the head, near the left eye and in the stomach, died several hours later at Hempstead hospital, the knife wound in the stomach proving fatal.

Much mystery surrounded the stabbing. Principals either could not or would not give a coherent or reliable story of the affair. Police were unable to learn a motive.

Joe Bertram and William A. Patton, 38, were placed under arrest by the police, Bertram with the cutting and Patton as an accessory. Both Bertram and Patton entered pleas of not guilty at a preliminary hearing and were bound over to the grand jury on first degree murder charges. An indictment charging manslaughter was returned against Bertram by a recent grand jury but no bill was returned against Patton.

Prosecutor's Surprise.

Counsel for the prisoner was greeted with a surprise Friday morning which broke down their plans for defense when County Prosecutor Joseph T. Micklethwait introduced E. L. McNamara and John Hammock as star witnesses. Their testimony, telling of the actual circumstances of the stabbing so far as any one seemed to be able to tell, forced the defense to change its tactics. The state had not entirely introduced all its evidence when court adjourned at noon. Delay in opening the afternoon session was caused by a long consultation between Bertram's counsel and himself. It was finally decided to submit the case to the jury without further procedure. Attorney Funk stated that the defense would offer neither evidence nor argument, and after Judge James S. Thomas delivered his charge the case was given to the jury. The jury was out just eighteen minutes when it filed in with its verdict of manslaughter.

Commended Prisoner.

Judge Thomas in passing sentence commended the prisoner on his demeanor and stated that it would contribute largely in mitigating his sentence when application was made to the state administration. Judge Thomas also commended favorably on the attitude of counsel for the defense in refusing to dispute the state's evidence.

The prisoner made no comment either before or after the passing of sentence and returned to the county jail with Sheriff Pete Smith apparently reconciled to his fate.

Jury Easily Secured.

With Judge James S. Thomas occupying the bench, excellent progress was made in impaneling a jury and opening the trial. At one table sat the accused, Joseph Bertram, and his counsel, Attorney Theo. K. Funk, of this city, and Attorney John Waugh, commonwealth attorney of the thirty-second judicial district of Kentucky, of Grayson, Ky. These two attorneys directed the legal battle to save Bertram from the state penitentiary. Prosecuting Attorney Joseph Micklethwait occupied the state's bench directing the prosecution.

Twelve men selected to pass on Bertram's fate are: John Pick, Bart Brant, A. J. Fuller, George Freund, Daniel Yost, Thos. Crown, Bernard Sommer, John Petry, Charles Flaker, Burle Burke, Fred Prediger, J. P. Menke.

The state opened its case with the introduction of testimony by Dr. C. W. Wendelken, who testified that he rendered first aid to the victim, Bernard Friel. The physician told of the nature of the wounds inflicted and efforts he made to prevent the clutch of death.

Dr. J. Daehler, as coroner, testified as to the post mortem he conducted. In describing the nature of the wounds he stated that three cuts were inflicted. One was inflicted in the back of the head, another near the left eye while the third, which proved fatal to the victim, was inflicted in the stomach.

Dr. James W. Fitch in his testimony practically substantiated the evidence of the other two physicians as to the nature of the wounds.

Officer Delbert Campbell testified that he was in the saloon at the time of the cutting. He stated that he heard a scuffle and turned around to see Bertram walk back through the crowd toward the rear door of the saloon with a knife open. He was exclaiming: "Give me the way—give me the way."

Officer Campbell further testified that he immediately stepped up to Bertram, took the knife away from him and placed him under arrest.

When there were 25 or 30 people in the saloon at the time of the cutting. The patrolman stated that he did not see any liars struck. When shown the knife with which Bertram is supposed to have done the cutting the patrolman identified it as the one he took away from the accused a short time after the cutting. The knife is in the possession of the court and was accepted as a part of the state's evidence.

Saw Man Waving Knife.

D. L. Webb, Jr., another witness called by the state also said that he was in the saloon at the time of the scuffling and cutting but like Patrolman Campbell did not see any of the crushing or stabbing. He was near a screen in the saloon, which partially obscured his view of the principals. He first saw the screen rock, then he saw Bertram backing away from the crowd, waving a knife aloft and exclaiming: "Give me the way."

He stated that he saw no liars struck, heard no talk that would lead him to believe that there was trouble brewing. He saw several people attempting to separate the scuffle.

Nevin Musser, a machinist, 1626 Seventh street, stated that he was in Hollar and Cropper's saloon at the time of the trouble. He stated he heard a scuffle near the screen, saw several persons rush toward the fighters. There were five or six men at the head of the bar, according to Mr. Musser, but he heard no commotion before he heard the scuffling on the floor.

Mr. Musser was the first witness for the state to testify that he saw any liars struck. He stated that he saw a man strike twice with his right arm. Asked to look around the court room to see if he could find the man who struck the blows, Mr. Musser pointed directly at Bertram who was sitting with his counsel at a bench nearby. He positively identified Mr. Bertram as the man who struck the liars.

Mr. Musser stated that after he saw the liars struck, he saw Friel lying on the floor close to the screen. He further testified that he saw Bertram back to the center of the room holding his knife aloft. He saw Bertram placed under arrest and deliver a knife to the officer, he said.

Albert Patton, another state witness said that he was in the Hollar and Cropper saloon the night of June 12 and saw Bertram and others standing at the bar. He said he saw Friel come and then Bertram on the arm and then the two went over near the screen. Bertram presently exclaimed to Friel: "Don't say that to me anymore." He further testified that he saw Bertram step back and put his hand under his coat. He said he saw Bertram strike Friel only once and he then backed away to the center of the room. The witness claimed that he did not see the knife.

Eastland Capacity Is Placed At 2,045, Inspector Declares

Chicago, July 30.—When the inquiry which is being conducted by Secretary Redfield into the causes of the Eastland disaster was resumed today, Robert Reid, United States inspector of steamboats, with headquarters at Grand Haven, Michigan, was recalled to the stand. Mr. Reid was one of the six men ordered held by the coroner's jury to the state grand jury and is the father-in-law of J. M. Erickson, chief engineer of the Eastland, who also was held to the grand jury. The witness was examined by A. L. Thurman, solicitor for the department of commerce.

"I first saw the Eastland in the Chicago harbor in June, 1906," said Inspector Reid. "I was then an assistant hull inspector. The boat was then allowed to carry 3,000 passengers."

"I made my first inspection of the Eastland at Grand Haven, Michigan, in June, 1914, just after her return from Cleveland, where she had been for several years. At that time I knew no members of the owning company except George T. Arnold, the president. He was a personal acquaintance. The boat was taken to Benton Harbor, Michigan, and Inspector C. C. Eckliff and I inspected her there June 10, 1914. At that time I found the general condition of the steamer and her life-saving apparatus good. I gave her a capacity of 2,045."

"In determining her capacity I considered the life-saving apparatus and did not take into consideration the deck space, though it was the general practice to do so. I knew she had deck space for 3,000 passengers."

Inspector Reid said that the general rule in determining the deck space for regulating the passenger capacity of a boat was to divide the number of square feet of deck space by either six, seven, eight or nine. "When Eckliff and I fixed the capacity of the boat," said Reid, "George T. Arnold, president of the St. Joseph-Chicago Steamship Co., William H. Hall, vice-president, and Walter C. Steele, secretary, were aboard."

The witness said that his son-in-law, J. M. Erickson, had applied for the position of chief engineer of the Eastland at the request of his wife, and Mr. Hall had written a letter to the Grand Haven Inspection Board, asking about Erickson's qualifications. Mr. Erickson was later appointed chief engineer.

Inspector Reid said that at one time he had angered Mr. Hall by refusing to grant a certificate of inspection. "I have had my character attacked more than once," said the witness. "Because I refused to certify boats."

Work of raising the Eastland progressed slowly today. The big vessel has been encircled with heavy cables. Large pontoons were being forced under the bow and stern. It will take a week or more to place the vessel on its keel, according to those in charge of the work. Launches dragged the river today and ten divers continued their search for bodies of victims. The body of a woman was taken from a cabin of the boat early in the day.

This morning's figures on the loss of life in the Eastland disaster showed the identification dead 833, unidentified dead 2, Western Electric Company list of missing, 236. Total, 1,071.

ELEVEN KILLED

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 30.—Eleven men were killed and six seriously injured at the Patterson mine of the United Coal company, at Elizabeth, Pa., this afternoon, when a cable carrying a train, broke on an incline and the cars crashed into a party of men at the mouth of mine.

Boys Were O. K.

Harry Ratcliff, of Haverhill, and Everett Sturgill, of Hanging Rock, by their efforts to sell two saddle horses for $25 each, caused police to lock them up on suspicion Thursday night. Telephone inquiries proved the youths were O. K. and simply on a horse trading trip, and they were dismissed Friday and their horses, which were put up at Gardner's livery stable, were returned to them.

WITH THE SICK

Will Heisel, of Harvard Place, has returned home from Dr. Sattler's hospital in Cincinnati where he had been receiving eye treatment.

Friends of Emil Bishop will be pleased to learn that he is improving at the Athens hospital, where he was taken several months ago.

George Holt, who was badly burned while at work in the plant of the Whitaker-Glessner Company Thursday, is doing as well as could be expected. He resides at 813 Murray street. Holt fell on a "hot standing" and his left arm and side were burned.

Charles Sommer, of the hardware firm of Sommer Bros., has been detained at home the past few days by the illness of his wife.

Harold, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ruhlman, is reported very ill at their home on Oakland avenue.

Mrs. Hazel Klitch Fay, of Fourth street, has been very ill for several days.

Benjamin Grayson, aged 70, while cutting weeds in his rear yard at his home on Eighth street, was overcome by heat Thursday afternoon and was in an unconscious condition for two hours. He rallied last night and was reported slightly improved Friday.

Miss Edna Webb's hand came in contact with an electric fan in Anderson's store yesterday and was badly cut.

MOVIE

At The Sun

It is unusual to find such a combination of stars in one production as is presented in William Fox's latest photo-dramatic success, "Dr. Rameau." In the title role appears Frederick Perry, lately starred in the Broadway success of the season, "On Trial," and admittedly the most effective dramatic actor on the stage today.

Stuart Holmes, as Munzell, the artist, is too well-known to require extensive praise for his very effective work in this remarkable production. Mr. Holmes has starred in many feature pictures, and seems to grow more popular with each. Dorothy Bernard, who portrays Conchita with such telling charm and power; Jean Southern, as the innocent recipient of Dr. Rameau's wrath; George Alison as Talvane, and Edith Haller in the important role of Roselle, are a fitting support for the superb dramatic talent of Mr. Perry.

Too much credit, furthermore, cannot be given to Mr. Will S. Davis and his assistant, Mr. Arthur Vaughan, for the painstaking manner and artistic skill with which they directed the picture. The action is often capable of exaggeration, but not once did Mr. Davis permit the overdoing of a scene. The settings are splendid, and the photography throughout is very good.

ENTIRE JAPANESE CABINET RESIGNS

Tokio, July 30.—The Japanese cabinet, headed by Count Okuma, as premier, has tendered its resignation to Emperor Oorn, minister of the interior, following an investigation into bribing charges in the elections last March. Viscount Oorn's resignation was sanctioned by the emperor after a report on the situation had been made to him by Count Okuma.

Several members and former members of the Imperial Diet are involved in the bribery investigation. K. Hayashida, who had been chief secretary of the lower house for twenty years, was arrested Wednesday in connection with Viscount Oorn, who was to have received a gift of $50,000 from a candidate for membership in the house.

Premier Okuma, believing he should hold himself responsible for the acts of the members of his cabinet, was the first to tender his resignation. The other ministers immediately decided to follow the example of their chief. After receiving Count Okuma the emperor summoned the older statesmen for a conference. Two cases have been mentioned as responsible for the crisis. The first was the charge that 10,000 yen ($5,000) had been offered Viscount Oorn by a candidate for the house as the price of keeping a rival candidate out of the field. K. Hayashida, chief of the secretary of the lower house, who was arrested Wednesday, has been quoted as receiving the money.

The second case involves two representatives charged with accepting bribes to desert the Seiyukai, or conservative party and support the government in its campaign for an increased army.

The elder statesmen will meet tomorrow and it is said considered probable they will advise that Count Okuma be invited to retain the office of premier and reconstruct the cabinet. The name of Lieutenant General Count Terauchi, governor general of Korea, also has been suggested, however, for the post of premier.

Contest At Bathing Beach

Great interest has been created in the girls' contest to be staged at the Peerless Bathing Beach on Saturday afternoon. Season tickets will be presented to the two most attractively attired ladies, costumed in bathing suits. It is thought that fully 200 young women will compete for the prize, making Saturday the biggest day in the history of the popular resort.

The beach is now out, the water fine and clear and everything properly attuned to the joys of the occasion. All the comforts of Atlantic City are afforded at the Peerless Bathing Beach and people now realize the fact that Portsmouth has a bathing resort of which they should be quite proud.

HAS OUR SYMPATHY

We sympathize today with our friend, M. O. Wilson, editor of the Vanceburg Sun. M. O. has been state representative from Lewis county and he wants to go back, but according to his own confession in his own paper he is having one devil of a time connecting with the Republican nomination. He has bitter opposition and he lays all of this onto his advocacy of state wide prohibition for Kentucky. He says that the Demon Rum trust has brought out and is financing his opponent and that there is an unholy alliance with the Democratic bosses at Vanceburg to aid and promote the candidacy of this friend of the flowing bowl. However, our brother editor finds consolation in the fact that every minister in Lewis county and the anti-saloon league has endorsed him, and he calls upon the friends of righteousness everywhere to rally to his cause and put him over a winner at the primary August seventh.

We are surprised though at Colonel Wilson being so frantic over his plight. With all the real good people in Lewis county at his back, we should think that he would sit calmly back and speculate on the size of his majority over the hosts of Satan who are seeking his undoing. Surely Wilson does not believe that any of his real good and faithful friends will desert him in his hour of need!

But then you never can tell what a grateful electorate will do. They have been known to turn to strange idols and sacrifice faithful followers to gratify some whim or fancy.

THE DAY OF FREEDOM

Gorgeous, yes gorgeous, is the only description of the style of raiment men are beginning to wear. Not here, of course. They will be a year arriving in the smaller towns. From Chicago newspapers we learn that business men are going to work these hot days in pale lavender linen suits with yellow polka-dot neckties. Elderly gentlemen are taking vast pains to match their hats and their neckties with their whiskers. When the whiskers happen to be gray the result is vivid.

The rising generation of the heroic sex has taken to exposing its usually angular and projecting Adam's Apple between the wide rolls of a collar on a shirt copied from the style Lord Byron is pictured as wearing.

Touring cars of glowing scarlet and youths in white with red socks, belts and bands on their wide brim picture hats.

This tickles us. Too long have men been condemned to the wearing of black and gray. Each of us has suppressed for years the desire to wear the gorgeous colors which are needed to set off figures fine or fat. Now that opportunity has come let man prove worthy of it. Let the teamsters wear corsage bouquets; the owners of Panama hats deck them with roses; put lace curtains tied with baby blue ribbon on automobile wind-shields, and go the whole length in the peacock line.—Bluefield Telegraph.

The old gang still has a few trenches manned by the faithful as was evidenced by the ease and skill with which they sat down upon the aspirations of a McCormick supporter named Bowser to be deputy clerk of the board of elections and handed the plum to a young man by the name of Johnley, who in consideration of the plum agreed to pull out of the race for the nomination for city solicitor. The Willis crowd has a man's size job on its hands in killing off the veterans. Don't lose sight of that fact.

We suppose the average candidate actually gets to thinking, before the campaign is over, that his election is supremely important to the public interest, says the Ohio State Journal. Yep, that's true. We've got five of 'em down here feeling that way about the Republican nomination for mayor.

In all the noise and clash of contending factions, we are pained to see that little mention is being made of the fact that the Hon. N. B. Gilliland is also running for the Republican nomination for mayor. Our own opinion is that Nate is diggin' a little mine. He is too darned quiet not to be up to some devilment.

Some people are certainly finicky. Here is the Youngstown Telegram complaining because a bridge is twenty-three years old, though quite usefully serving its purpose. Down here we would be glad enough to have any sort of an old bridge.

THEY SURELY KEEP THE COP BUSY

SAVE THE TREES

One of our friends in commenting the editorial in Thursday's Times about the planting of trees, said that we should have gone a bit further and handed out some wholesome advice upon the care of the trees after they had been planted. "Why", said he, "I know of numbers of fine trees that had begun to die that could have been saved by proper care and trimming. Instead of this the citizens entrusted the pruning of the trees to ex-fishermen and ex-this and ex-that or the other, to men who had no more idea of tree culture than to slash and cut and saw. They hacked off limbs here and there and the result was that the trees were soon dead. On Sixth street alone a dozen trees were mutilated by tree butchers and had to be removed."

We agree that only experts should be allowed to care for trees. Proper trimming is as essential as proper food to a human being and it should be done only by experts. In some way the city should have charge of or should regulate the care of the trees in the corporation. Then we would be sure to have competent men doing the work and the results would be in evidence in a very short while.

Hooray! The good old days are back. Free passes have been restored by our good young governor's decentralized and denatured board of agriculture and now each hound-handed son of toil in the state who has a pull can again flash a pass before the eyes of his unlucky neighbors who have to pony up the cash to see that spavined, flea-bitten and decaying advertising annex of the Columbus merchants, formerly known to fame as the Ohio State Fair.

If anybody comes around to you and asks what you will take for your automobile, you had better think twice and look up the pedigree of your questioner before you answer. It may be a detective from the tax commissioners office trying to find out what's the difference between the sale value and the tax value of your machine.

At the next shaking of the Willis plum tree Ada college is going to get five more appointments and Harry Bannion is going to get two more for his faithful and glue bunch in this city. If this thing keeps up Bannion will have to hire a policeman to keep the old guard of divine right office holders from coming over to his side and claiming him as their own.

There must be some exaggeration about these reports of munificent war orders coming from Europe. Government figures on exports show that munitions form only a trifling part of the magnificent total of over two billions for the last eleven months.

New Boston now has one paved street, but getting to it and off of it is the horror.

THE BUSINESS OF REFORM

The chief concern of every American is the reformation of somebody else. With the exception of certain corporations, organized base ball and a few other mercenary concerns, every organization in America is devoting most of its time to the sins that beset people in some other level of life. We have already reached that semi-heaven where nobody has to pay any attention to his own business—least of all to his own shortcomings. Perhaps, after we have had a rich experience in being our brothers' keepers, we may acquire sense enough to take care of ourselves.—From "Judge."

You just can't keep 'em from kicking. Here are the Boston Braves making a brave rush for the top of the heap and yet the staid Times of Portsmouth, N. H., stops the cheering long enough to croak: "Some day the management of the Braves may allow people to go to a game to see ball played and not to be spectators to a rough and tumble fight." In this portion of the vineyard we would be witness complacently enough to murder if the Cincinnati Reds would start a winning streak just for once.

Just as we thought, it has come, or is about to. West Virginia is going to ask the national government to pay the thirteen million dollar judgment, returned against her and in favor of Virginia, by the federal court.

What a difference turning a thing around makes. If the Cincinnati Reds had won as many games as they have lost and lost as many as they have won, they would be at the head of the class, instead of last as now.

Yep, there's always the silver lining. Biggest crops of record for this year. It'll not be much of a farmer that can't ride in an automobile.

THEY JUST SAID "GOOD-BYE" AND DEPARTED.

Base ball fans are often over curious to know what managers say to their pitchers in critical moments. At the Polo Grounds the other day, the bases were filled and a heavy hitter was up. Miller Huggins strolled over to his pitcher Sulec and talked as if the world's fate hinged on what he said. Fletcher subsequently filed out.

These are the words that passed between manager and pitcher in that tense moment, according to Huggins, who told about it in his downtown hotel.

Huggins—Got any chewin' Slim?

Sulec—Sure, want a gob?

Huggins—Just a wee bite—Thanks.

"What on earth are you doing with them?"
"Foolin' 'em."
"How?"
"Sendin' 'em up this telephone pole."

To Initiate A Class

It was too hot Thursday night for members of Massie Lodge, K. of P., to transact other than necessary routine business, but next Thursday night a grand time will be held. Sciotoville lodge degree team will come to Portsmouth and confer the third degree on three candidates, W. V. Donley, W. V. Peck and John C. Hatcliffe. Massie lodge will also be invited to attend.

YOUR EYES ARE YOUR BREAD WINNERS

Take care of them. If you would stop and think what it would mean to be deprived of your eyesight how utterly helpless you would be, you wouldn't abuse your eyes in the least but would take the greatest care of them always.

The moment you feel that anything is wrong, if your sight is blurred, if you feel dizzy, if your eyes tire easily, you should not lose a minute in having them examined. By being prompt in attending to your eyes at the first sign of trouble you will be able to have the defect speedily and permanently cured.

We make no charge for examination and recommend glasses only when necessary.

Two Reel Drama

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woe, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 98.

are not too young to be married. The questions asked by the probate judge are your age, mother's and father's name, whether you are widowed, divorced or single and a few others of like nature. She should return the engagement ring.

Dear Miss Wise.—The young man who has been calling on me for over a year and a half stopped calling after a quarrel. I know from the way he acts that he would like to come back, and I would like to have him, but we are both too proud to make the first move. What would you advise me to do? PANSY.

Pride is a very commendable thing to have, but when it interferes with happiness, and there is no vital moral interest concerned, I think it is a pretty good idea to put it away until it is really needed. If you feel perfectly sure that the man feels about the affair as you do, I think it would be proper for you to write him a note, asking him to call at a fixed time. That will give him a chance to take the initiative in any "making up" there is to be done.

Dear Miss Wise.—I have mislaid an excellent recipe for a mixture with which to brighten soiled carpets. Can you suggest anything which I might use? C. E.

Into one gallon of water, dissolve one bar of white soap and one cup of borax chips. When thoroughly melted add ten cents worth of salts of tartar and three tablespoonsful of ammonia. Use a large sponge in cleaning and wipe dry with a clean cloth. This brings out the colors and will make the rugs and carpets look like new.

Miss Wise.—Would like to know how to cook flank steak economically for a large family. A. M.

Cut into 4-inch squares. Scour lightly. Spread each square with finely minced carrot and onion, a bit of celery and minced parsley, salt and pepper. Roll and tie at both ends with clean twine. Place in a granite pot. Between each layer of meat put several inches of lentils which have been soaked over night and parboiled with soda. Here and there place a slice of onion, and a pinch of salt. Cover with water and simmer or bake in the oven till the lentils are done. This should take six hours.

Dear Miss Wise.—Do you think girls of fifteen are too old to ride bicycles? TOM-BOYS.

No.

Dear Miss Wise.—We are two girls of 20 and 25 years and are considered very good looking and are thinking about getting married this fall. Do you think we are old enough, and if so, what questions does the judge ask when you go to secure the license? As we are very anxious to know. After a girl has been going with a fellow for over three years and he gave her a diamond ring and they quit, what should be done with the ring? BRIDES-TO-BE.

Girls at the age of 20 and 25

At the called meeting of the Joseph Spencer Chapter, D. A. R., held yesterday afternoon at the home of the regent, Mrs. Irving Drew, action was taken on the naming of the road, Scioto Trail, which extends from the Ohio river to Lake Erie. The members of the D. A. R. of the state of Ohio are not satisfied with the name, as they want it changed to Harrison-Scioto Trail. The road above Columbus has been called Harrison Road since the 1812-13-14 war, that being the route on which Harrison camped during the war, and the D. A. R. is very much opposed to having the name of Harrison removed. There are five counties, Scioto, Pike, Ross, Franklin and Pickaway this side of Columbus, and fourteen counties along the entire trail in which there are representatives of the D. A. R. The road has been marked by tablets from Port Clinton to Columbus. Each of the fourteen counties through which the road passes will hold meetings to act on the matter. The local chapter is urged by the Dolly Todd Madison Chapter of Tiffin to send representatives to the county meetings that will have the consideration of the matter and the local Joseph Spencer Chapter expects to respond to the request. After a recapitulation of the reasons why the name Harrison-Scioto Trail should be accepted, the resolution drawn up by Attorney James D. Watson, of Tiffin, in behalf of the Chamber of Commerce of that city, closes with the following appeal: "Therefore, Be it Resolved: That main market road number eight (8) be named 'The Harrison-Scioto Trail' to perpetuate the name of a man whose grave is unmarked by the American people for whom he offered his life, and whose burial place may be unknown, but whose deeds of patriotism and love of country is a rich heritage to his adopted state of Ohio, and further, that the action taken in this matter on July 2, at Marion, O. his, be, and the same is hereby rescinded by action of this permanent organization, and that the Ohio State Highway Department be, and is hereby requested to adopt 'The Harrison-Scioto Trail' as a permanent name for main market road number eight (8)."

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McCormick have returned from Ironton, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. J. B. William. Mrs. McCormick has as guest Mrs. Calvin Stevenson, of Cincinnati, who attended the funeral of Mrs. William, of Maple Terrace Farm, Ky., which was held in Ironton.

Last evening was the last supper at the Y. W. C. A. before the departure of Miss Anna Hennings and Miss Inez Mahan, and to show their appreciation and love for the two popular women, the girls of the Y. W. C. A. presented to Miss Hennings a pretty brass desk clock, the presentation being made by Miss Olga Thoroman. Miss Mahan was also presented with a small mahogany desk clock. Miss Jennie Mayhew making the presentation. The scene was very touching, and Miss Hennings broke down and was hardly able to respond as the pretty gift was handed to her. Miss Hennings told the donations. All girls of the Y. W. were present, as follows: Misses Mayhew, Thoroman, May Scaggs, Ethel Cooper, Pearl Stanley, Agnes Rayburn, Myrtle Bloomfield, Mary Kress, Grace Fritts, Elsie Burke, Carroll Arbuckle, Pauline Sigmund, Ruby Penner, Ethel Andrus, Grace Fisher, Mary Fisher, Laura Goings, Ceola Reynolds, Della Collins, Bertha Wills, Ruth Stout, Minnie Kennedy, Ruby Gilkerson, Cora Brown, Bertha Ellis, Elizabeth Farmer, house secretary, and Mrs. Lohizer, of Cleveland.

Miss Hennings goes to Lake Geneva for a two weeks' outing, then to Chicago to visit at the Moody Bible School and from there will go to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, to visit her sister for a time.

Another picnic party of about forty young women employees of the Portsmouth Telephone Company was held this afternoon at Millbrook park, where a splendid supper will be served. Mr. Allen, manager, was present and saw that the girls enjoyed every minute of the time. The picnic of yesterday afternoon also included about forty employees.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Uhl, who were recently married, will return Saturday from Franklin Furnace, where they have been enjoying camp life for a few months. Mr. Uhl will return to his work in the First National bank Monday, when Otto Maistre will begin a two weeks' vacation.

The Bigelow Methodist Children's Missionary Society will meet Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. John Rottinghaus, 1304 Third street. After the business all will go to Millbrook park, where refreshments will be served. The mothers of the children are also invited.

Miss Lydia Appel, who has been traveling in the West, is now in Colorado Springs for a few days, after which she will return to Las Vegas, N. M., where, in company with the Misses Baum, she will go to the mountains for a rest before coming home the last of August.

The Royal Neighbors enjoyed a picnic yesterday at Millbrook park, where there were thirty-five members and their families present. An elegant picnic supper was served and everybody had a good time.

Mr. Arthur L. Wilson, principal of the South Webster school, who has just completed a fourteen weeks' study at the O. U. at Athens, accompanied by his sister, Miss Edith Wilson, a teacher in the New Boston school, who has been attending the summer session at the O. U., returned last evening to spend the remainder of the summer at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wilson, at Wheelersburg.

At the called meeting of the Joseph Spencer Chapter, D. A. R., held yesterday afternoon at the home of the regent, Mrs. Irving Drew, action was taken on the naming of the road, Scioto Trail, which extends from the Ohio river to Lake Erie. The members of the D. A. R. of the state of Ohio are not satisfied with the name, as they want it changed to Harrison-Scioto Trail. The road above Columbus has been called Harrison Road since the 1812-13-14 war, that being the route on which Harrison camped during the war, and the D. A. R. is very much opposed to having the name of Harrison removed. There are five counties, Scioto, Pike, Ross, Franklin and Pickaway this side of Columbus, and fourteen counties along the entire trail in which there are representatives of the D. A. R. The road has been marked by tablets from Port Clinton to Columbus. Each of the fourteen counties through which the road passes will hold meetings to act on the matter. The local chapter is urged by the Dolly Todd Madison Chapter of Tiffin to send representatives to the county meetings that will have the consideration of the matter and the local Joseph Spencer Chapter expects to respond to the request. After a recapitulation of the reasons why the name Harrison-Scioto Trail should be accepted, the resolution drawn up by Attorney James D. Watson, of Tiffin, in behalf of the Chamber of Commerce of that city, closes with the following appeal: "Therefore, Be it Resolved: That main market road number eight (8) be named 'The Harrison-Scioto Trail' to perpetuate the name of a man whose grave is unmarked by the American people for whom he offered his life, and whose burial place may be unknown, but whose deeds of patriotism and love of country is a rich heritage to his adopted state of Ohio, and further, that the action taken in this matter on July 2, at Marion, O. his, be, and the same is hereby rescinded by action of this permanent organization, and that the Ohio State Highway Department be, and is hereby requested to adopt 'The Harrison-Scioto Trail' as a permanent name for main market road number eight (8)."

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McCormick have returned from Ironton, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. J. B. William. Mrs. McCormick has as guest Mrs. Calvin Stevenson, of Cincinnati, who attended the funeral of Mrs. William, of Maple Terrace Farm, Ky., which was held in Ironton.

Mrs. J. B. Craigmyle, assisted by Messrs. Browning, Cheney and Maguire, entertained Section Five of the Ladies' Union of the First Christian church last evening at Mrs. Craigmyle's home, on Lincoln Hill. Fifty was the number present. Elopement Alleged; Couple Caught Here, Make Denial

Acting on a long distance telephone message, followed by a telegram confirming the former, the local police began a hunt Friday for a couple named in the telegram as Harry Rogers and Mrs. Bessie Strobridge, alleged to be a runaway wife.

The messages, which were from W. O. Porter, chief of police of Williamson, requested that the pair be apprehended and held for him. They had left Williamson on N. & W. passenger train No. 10 Thursday evening, for Sciotoville, the messages stated.

The police got into touch with Constable Clinton Daniels and soon learned that a couple giving this name had spent the night at a hotel in Sciotoville.

Officer Dennis Burns also dispatched to Star Yards to join in the search, but they were unable to find the couple.

Rogers was later arrested by Constable Daniels at New Boston, whether he had gone to seek employment at the Steel plant. He was brought to the city prison. He is a locomotive engineer and headed at the woman's home. He said her husband, Harvey Strobridge, a coal miner was jealous of him and threatened to kill his wife. They have three young children. She asked him to find a job for her and she followed him to Sciotoville on a different train, he said. Her brother-in-law, John Richards, a shale bank worker, of Sciotoville, accompanied him when he went to the depot to meet her. He claimed that they occupied separate rooms.

at the Sciotoville hotel Thursday night. Mrs. Strobridge was arrested at 3:30 and taken to the police station.

RUDOLPH BURKHARDT SUFFERS SUN STROKE

Rudolph Burkhardt, aged and well-known farmer of near Siloam, Ky., suffered a sun-stroke late Thursday afternoon and was being kept alive all day Friday with stimulants. He is still unconscious.

U. S. Demands That Mexicans Allow Trains To Run

Washington, July 30.—Responses from the Mexican military factions to urgent representations by the United States government that they allow food supplies to reach the starving people of Mexico City were today awaited by officials here. Notes addressed to Generals Carranza, Villa and Zapata, demanding that the railroad line from Vera Cruz to Mexico City, be kept open, for the transportation of food supplies were sent. The faction leaders are in control of the road. The demand was made upon humanitarian grounds.

The dispatch of the notes followed the receipt by Secretary Lansing of a communication from the American Red Cross sent by Charles J. O'Connor, in charge of the Red Cross relief work in Mexico City. He pictured conditions in the Mexican capital as more chaotic than ever. People are actually dying of starvation, despite

Deny Claim Of Kaps Men Concerning Johnley Deal

Strenuous denial is made by Charles Schirrmann, member of the county board of elections, that the Republican members of the board were lined up for J. F. Johnley for deputy clerk through the influence of the Kaps majority organization.

Mr. Schirrmann says that a year ago Johnley was endorsed for the place by the Republican executive committee but he was not chosen as members had pledged themselves to George Ditty, who was elected. They did promise Mr. Johnley that if there was a vacancy they would support him and in compliance with this pledge Johnley was chosen on Thursday, claims from any source to the contrary.

Mr. Schirrmann says that he does not know as to whom Johnley is supporting for the Republican nomination for mayor. He does know that Bowser, a defeated candidate, claimed to be for Kaps. So it would seem that the claims to great influence and clever manipulation made by some individual members of the Kaps organization was just a little hot air talk designed to impress the multitude.

EXPECT SETTLEMENT

Boston, July 30.—Efforts to settle the labor difficulty at the plant of the Becker Milling Machine Co., which was closed after a strike of large number of machinists yesterday, were looked for today. Members of the strikers' committee announced that they would confer with former Governor Eugene N. Foss, president of the company, and would report the result to a meeting of the machinists later.

ADVISES FARMERS TO TO CAN SURPLUS FRUIT

Columbus, July 30.—"Can your surplus fruit and vegetables." This advice went forth to farmers today from the new agricultural department. Renick W. Dunlap, secretary of the board of agriculture, said he has instituted an investigation to secure exact information concerning the cost of buying and operating small canning equipments and the markets for comparatively small quantities of canned fruits or vegetables. "Thousands of dollars worth of fruit and vegetables which cannot be used by farmers and which have no market, go to waste every year," said Secretary Dunlap. "The expenditure of $50 for a home cannery would often bring good results."

Says Allies' Losses Are Tremendous

Berlin, July 30.—(By wireless to Sarville)—A dispatch from Athens to the Over-seas News Agency, says: "The American cruiser North Carolina shortly returned to Greece from an extended trip in the war zone. The officers of the ship told an acquaintance that the real losses of the Entente Allies in the Dardanelles surpassed everything heretofore reported. The Australian and Irish detachments were almost annihilated."

"The attempts to storm the rocky steep heights on the Asiatic side of the straits were termed by those officers as simple insanity. Turkish machine guns, directed by German officers, mowed down the storming troops. The Turks, led by the German, fought with great fury. "Wounded English officers at Alexandria spoke with the highest admiration of their antagonists. An Austrian regiment of 1,000 returned from a charge sixty-seven strong. "These were wounded; their comrades were dead."

strength. It came while Becker was still commending his soul to his Maker.

The two prison physicians stepped forward to examine the collapsed figure that sat supported in the death chair by the thick black leather straps.

The stethoscope was applied to the heart and Dr. Charles Farr, the prison physician, pressed his finger against the artery in the neck. There was a feeble fluttering of the heart. The physician stepped back from the rubber mat and again the electric current pulsed through the body. The shock lasted seven seconds and the current was then turned off. After a hasty examination, Dr. Farr asked that a third shock be given. This lasted five seconds. An examination that took several minutes followed. Three physicians among the witnesses then made an examination, and Dr. Farr, at 5:53 o'clock, quietly announced: "I pronounce this man dead."

Makes Statement
During the night Becker penciled on a piece of paper what he captioned "My dying declaration."

It was taken to the warden's office where two copies were typewritten, which Becker signed with his fountain pen in a bold hand.

To Deputy Warden Johnson, who had charge of the execution in place of Warden Thomas Matt Osborn, who does not believe in the death penalty, the one time police lieutenant gave his fountain pen as a gift.

"It is the last thing that I have to give away and I want you to have it. I want you to give this statement to the news- paper men."

Becker's statement given out just before death follows:

"Gentlemen:—I stand before you in my full senses, knowing that no power on earth can save me from the grave that is to receive my body.

"In the face of that, in the teeth of those who condemned me and in the presence of my God and your God, I proclaim my absolute innocence of the foul crime for which I must die.

"You are about to witness my destruction by the state, which is organized to protect the lives of the innocent.

"May Almighty God pardon every one who has contributed in any degree to my untimely death.

"And, now on the brink of the grave, I declare to the world that I am proud to have been the husband of the purest, noblest woman that ever lived—Helen Becker. This acknowledgment is the only legacy I can leave her. I bid you all good-bye. Father, I am ready to go. Amen."

(Signed) CHARLES BECKER.

Becker's statement was given out by Charles Becker a few moments before he was executed and was entitled by himself, "My Dying Declaration."

"Gentlemen:—I stand before you in my full senses, knowing that no power on earth can save me from the grave that is about to receive my body.

"In the face of that, in the teeth of those who condemned me and in the presence of my God and your God I proclaim my absolute innocence of the foul crime for which I must die.

HISTORY OF BECKER CASE

July 11—Herman Rosenthal, a New York gambler, publicly accused Police Lieutenant Charles A. Becker of graft.

July 14—District Attorney Whitman agreed to take up the Rosenthal charges, which were, in effect, that Becker had been a silent partner in Rosenthal's gambling house and that the two had conspired to be friends when Becker demanded what Rosenthal considered too large a share of the profits.

July 15—Rosenthal promised to lay full evidence against Becker before the district attorney on the following day.

July 16—Rosenthal was murdered at 1:57 a. m. in front of the Hotel Metropole. The four slayers escaped in a gray motor car.

July 17—Shapiro and Libby, owners of the "gray murder car," declared the car had been hired on the night of the tragedy by Jack Rose, gambler and intimate friend of both Becker and Rosenthal.

July 18—Rose surrendered and was held for murder.

July 21—"Bridge" Weber, friend of Rose, arrested and held for murder.

July 22—Harry Vallon, another friend of Rose, arrested and held for murder.

July 23—District Attorney Whitman announced the actual slayers to be the four gunmen—"Dago Frank," "Lefty Louis," "Whitey Lewis" and "Gyp the Blood."

July 25—"Dago Frank," one of the gunmen, arrested.

July 26—Rose, Weber and Vallon turned state's evidence, accusing Becker of instigating the murder, which they procured. Becker, accused, same night.

Aug. 1—"Whitey Lewis," the second gunman, arrested.

Aug. 6—Becker entered a formal plea of not guilty.

Aug. 15—Confession of Jack Rose and full story of the murder made public.

Sept. 14—Arrest of the remaining gunmen, "Lefty Louis" and "Gyp the Blood."

Oct. 7—Beginning of Becker's first trial.

Oct. 24—Becker found guilty of murder in the first degree.

Oct. 30—Becker, sentenced to die during week of Dec. 9, 1912, put in Sing Sing death house.

Nov. 19—The four gunmen convicted of first degree murder.

Dec. 1—Becker appealed from his conviction.

Feb. 24—Becker's conviction set aside and new trial ordered.

April 13—Execution of the four gunmen at Sing Sing.

May 4—Beginning of Becker's second trial.

May 12—Becker convicted for the second time and sentenced to death.

1915

May 25—Becker's second conviction upheld by the court of appeals.

July 4—Governor (former district attorney) Whitman granted Becker a reprieve from the week of July 12 to the week of July 26.

July 10—Justice Hughes of the Supreme Court of the United States refused the application of Becker's counsel for a writ of error.

that killed by gunmen—a commis- sion he executed.

That night, July 29, 1912, Dis- trict Attorney Whitman sum- moned the Grand Jury by telephone and telegraph, laid his evidence before it and within two hours obtained the indictment of Beck- er on a charge of murder.

Four East Side gangsters were indicted as the actual murderers. Rose had testified that these men were assigned by "Big Jack" Zelig, a gang leader, who had been arrested by Becker's men on a trumped-up charge, to do the murder. Zelig was to receive $1,000 and they were to be re- leased. Zelig's orders had been issued from the Tombs to the gunmen.

Four Pay Penalty

These gunmen—known in the streets of the East Side as "Gyp the Blood," Herowitz, "Lefty Louis," Rosenberg, "Dago Frank," Cirofici and "Whitey" Lewis—were rounded up one by one. The last two were arrested, "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louis" were not found till Sep- tember, hiding in a Brooklyn flat. With them were their young wives, who, to divert suspicion, had dyed their light hair black.

To give standing to the testi- mony of Becker's three accom- plices who had turned informers—Rose, Weber and Vallon—a corroborating witness who was not implicated was needed. Sam Scheppe, a dapper little gambler, who had fled the city, was the man who could do this. He was found at Hot Springs, Ark., brought back to New York and the people's case against Charles Becker was complete. It went to trial on October 7, 1912.

A verdict of guilty of first de- gree murder was returned at mid- night October 24, 1912, after the jury had deliberated seven hours and fifty-seven minutes. Becker was sentenced six days later to die in the electric chair during the week of December 9, 1912. Within less than a month the four gunmen were placed on trial as the actual slayers, found guilty and sent to the death house.

More than a year later, on Feb- ruary 24, 1914, the Court of Ap- peals decided that Becker should have a new trial. The gunmen's conviction was upheld and they paid the penalty with their lives on April 14, 1914. One of the number, "Dago Frank" confessed the guilt of his three associates, but maintained his own innocence. His confession, made on the eve of the execution, became known the day they were put to death.

Becker was brought back to the Tombs. His second trial was begun May 6, 1914, and ended May 22, with a verdict of guilty.

Throughout Becker's troubles his wife remained loyal to him and was his constant adviser. She labored apparently without tiring in his behalf, assisting his counsel in every way possible. She appeared to be crushed when the Court of Appeals upheld his second conviction, but soon turned her energies toward eleventh-hour work to save him. It was largely at her urging that he joined in the plan to ask Governor Whitman, his prosecutor, for clemency.

There was one other woman who, if reports are true, followed Becker's career through the courts as closely as his own wife did. This was Herman Rosen- thal's widow. Soon after Beck- er's second conviction she disap- peared. Not long ago she was found, broken in health and spir- it, and living with an old-time friend.

"I am living for only one thing," she was quoted as saying, "to see the day that Becker pays the penalty."

"Helen Becker Is The Purest, Noblest Woman Living"
Declares Condemned Murderer Just Before Death

Ossining, N. Y., July 30.—The following statement was given out by Charles Becker a few moments before he was executed and was entitled by himself, "My Dying Declaration."

"Gentlemen:—I stand before you in my full senses, knowing that no power on earth can save me from the grave that is about to receive my body.

"In the face of that, in the teeth of those who condemned me and in the presence of my God and your God I proclaim my absolute innocence of the foul crime for which I must die.

"You are now about to witness my destruction by the state which is organized to protect the lives of the innocent.

"May the Almighty God pardon everyone who has contributed to my untimely death.

"And, now on the brink of my grave, I declare to the world that I am proud to have been the husband of the purest, noble woman that ever lived—Helen Becker.

"This acknowledgment is the only legacy I can leave her. I bid you all good-bye. Father, I am ready to go. Amen."

Former Portsmouth Couple Have A Big Row At Marion; Knife And Whip Are Used

The Enquirer today said: Marion, Ohio, July 29.—Over his estranged wife after a wild chase of several miles, a man giving the name of Charles McDonald, of Portsmouth, today snatched his little girl from his wife's carriage, and, it is charged, tore the bride off her horse, which ran with the frantic woman powerless behind it. She was rescued by farmers. Sheriff Francis and a posse captured McDonald, who said Mrs. McDonald had attacked him with a knife. He exhibited many cuts. Prosecutor Johnson ordered both held.

Concerning the affair the Marion Star says: "Charles McDonald, whose wife is suing him for divorce in the court of common pleas, raced a horse on the Richland pike yesterday afternoon, seeking to overtake a horse, which was drawing a buggy in which his wife and twelve-year-old daughter were seated. McDonald won the race in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rentzenberger. He succeeded in unbacking the throat latch of the animal driven by his wife, according to a statement made by County Prosecutor Homer E. Johnson, this morning, and stripping the bride left Mrs. McDonald helpless and without control of the horse.

The result was a sudden ending of the race and McDonald, it is stated, descended with a buggy whip to chastise his wife for her endeavor to escape with the child. She had taken surreptitiously from the home of friends of the father of the child. The woman tried to defend herself with a pocket knife, but she is suffering of injuries which the prosecutor asserts are serious and are the result of the beating she received.

From the Rentzenberger home, Sheriff John J. Francis was notified by Mrs. McDonald of the battle in the road, and after a hasty run, the officials called took charge of everything and everything involved. The case is resting at that point.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald have two daughters, one aged fourteen year and the other twelve. Mrs. McDonald has been conducting a stand at the market house, and it appears while the older child has been visiting relatives in Portsmouth, the former home of the estranged couple, the younger daughter has been helping her mother and at the same time earning a few pennies in the service of others, who also conduct stands at the same place.

According to the story of the prosecutor McDonald went to the market house Tuesday evening and securing possession of his daughter took her to the home of friends. The battle for possession of this child became acute, McDonald placing his faith in an old order of court issued at Portsmouth some seven years ago and Mrs. McDonald fighting for what she regarded her rights in the present divorce proceeding, brought about the conflict."

Hot Weather Bad for Women's Nerves

Season When They Most Need Their Strength to Withstand The Heat

Hot weather has a decidedly weakening effect on most women. They become too languid to exercise, and as a result have appetite only for light, tasty foods, like salads and other cold concoctions, which do not digest readily and increase the natural tendency to constipation.

At this season women should maintain the highest possible standard of health, to counteract the enervating effect of the weather. Good digestion and regularity of the bowels are essential. The combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is highly recommended as a laxative and digestant by many physicians, as well as by thousands of women, who depend upon it as a remedy for many of those ills to which women seem more especially susceptible. Get a fifty-cent bottle of Dr.

Alberta Locher, Myrtle Hauck, Myrtle Graham, Amy Turner, Mabel Turner, Rose Gamberline, Naomi Call, Marjorie Egret, Maie Dougherty, Nell Doughty, Gladys Fish, Florence Busler.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bauer, of East Fourth street, are entertaining at dinner this evening Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Lindemeyer and family and their guests. Mrs. Wiegmann and daughter, Alma, of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Grimes, Mrs. Philip Zoellner, and Mrs. Lucy Schleifer.

Miss Mary Appel has returned from a visit in Cincinnati.

Mrs. John Zeune, of Baird avenue, will leave Saturday for Springfield and Dayton for a three weeks' visit.

The All Saints' Woman's Auxiliary held the regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sarah Faiver, on Third street, where a large number of members were present. Mrs. W. C. Ferguson presided over the meeting. Scripture reading by Mrs. Samuel J. Johnson. A reading, "One Summer Day in a Chinese Dispensary," was given by Mrs. J. L. Watkins. All the members gave beautiful tributes to the late Mrs. George Newman, in memory of the long continued work in the auxiliary. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the farm home of Miss Hettie Bryan, if the roads are in good condition. If not, the meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. S. J. Johnson.

Mrs. J. S. Pearce's home, on Ninth street, was the scene of a beautiful party this afternoon complimentary to her niece, Miss Evangeline Chadbourne, of Syracuse, N. Y. The decorations were in red and white color tone. White asters were the flowers used in the decorations. The afternoon was spent in needlework and music. In serving a dainty repast Mrs. Pearce was assisted by Mrs. Harry Revare, Mrs. Roy Gordon and Mrs. Morton Shumway. Those present were Misses Elizabeth Bannion, Elizabeth Watkins, Helen Dunn, Mary Davidson, Mary Anderson, Katherine Stockham, Katherine Mceller, Marjorie Pursell, Leonora Allard, Leona Hauck, Augusta and Helen Halderman, Mary Varner, Ruth Clare, Marie Bauer, Margaret Appel, Nell Turley, Hazel Drew, Julia Drugin, Mesdames Harry Revare, Paul Stockham, Roy Gordon, Morton Shumway, John L. Grimes and Miss Major, of Norristown, N. Y., guest of Miss Mary Anderson.

Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Nixon have as guests Mr. G. M. Hood and sister, Miss Pauline Hood, of Cleveland.

Starling Pearce will arrive tomorrow from Indianapolis, Ind., for a week-end visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pearce.

Miss Lucy Reinohl, of Long Run, was the guest over night of Mrs. Mary Rice, of Gallia street. She left Friday morning for Cherry Tree, Pa., to visit her brother, P. H. Reinohl, and returning will visit her brother, J. J. Reinohl, of

ITCHING BURNING SKIN TROUBLE

Scratched and It Would Burn and Hurt. Spread Larger and Larger. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Two Weeks Well.

Japan, Ill.—"I was annoyed both day and night by itching and burning on my leg. The trouble broke out with a rash something like heat, was raw and began to get worse. It itched very badly. I would scratch until the blood would come and then Oh! how it would burn and hurt. It began to spread larger and larger. It would hurt when my clothing touched it."

"I tried several remedies, such as Salve, etc., without success. I had this trouble about ten months before I began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment. First I would wash the affected parts with Cuticura Soap and then apply the Cuticura Ointment. In two months I was completely well and it has not returned." (Signed) Roscoe Taylor, July 9, 1914.

Cuticura Soap to cleanse and purify and Cuticura Ointment to soothe and heal are most effective relief preparations.

Record Breaking Month

July has surpassed all other months of the past scout year in the number of Merit Badges awarded by our Local Boy Scout Council. Since the regular meeting of the Court of Honor the first of the month there have been two special sessions, the last being held last Saturday, when the following Merit Badge honors: Howland Morris, troop 9, Machinery and Art; Russell D. Williams, troop 2, Scholarship and Pioneering; Carl Walker, troop 9, Pioneering; Swimming, Gardening, Life Saving, Harry Wagner, troop 3, Athletics, First Aid, Curtis Bellamy, troop 4, Physical Development, Bird Study; Arthur Doll, troop 8, Swimming and Athletics; Lowell Tatum, troop 8, Gardening, Swimming, Physical Development, Camping, Life Saving, Athletics and Bird Study; Harry Doll, troop 8, Horseman-ship.

Life Saving Badge

Possibly the most interesting Merit Badge which has been won by local scouts during the warm months is that of Life Saving. This badge was won recently by Scout Lowell Tatum, of troop 8, and Carl Walker, of troop 9. The requirements are as follows: (1) Be able to dive 7 to 10 feet and bring to the surface a loose bag of sand weighing 5 lbs. (2) Be able to swim 200 yards; 100 on back without using hands, and 100 on any other stroke. (3) Be able to swim 50 yards with clothes on. (4) Be able to unlash while swimming. (5) Demonstrating 5 methods of rescue. (6) Demonstrate the Schaeffer methods of resuscitation.

After First Class Honors

Scout Richard Knost, of troop 3 applied for First Class Scout honors Thursday. He was given his examination in swimming Thursday morning. He covered the required 50 yards without the least trouble. He will appear before the local Court of Honor at their meeting August 7th. Young Knost is a patrol leader of troop 3, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Knost, of Fifth street.

Pitcher Park Is Sold To St. Louis

Lexington, Ky., July 30.—James Park, of the Lexington Colts, was sold here today to the St. Louis American League Club for a price reported to be the highest ever paid for an Ohio State League ball player.

The sale was made by President C. F. Brower, of the Lexington Club, and Scout Charley Barrett, of the Browns. Park will report September 8. He has a record of 11 games won and 5 lost, and averaged more than six strike outs a game. Park graduated this year from the State University of Kentucky here and is famed throughout the south as a foot ball player. Eight clubs in the two major leagues bid for his services, including Cincinnati.

TWO ARE EXECUTED IN KENTUCKY PRISON

Eddyville, Ky., July 30.—For the third time in the history of Kentucky, a double electrocution took place this morning at 3:30 o'clock, at the Eddyville penitentiary. The first to be executed was Turner Graham, Jr., 24, a white man, convicted for the killing of K. J. McMurry, sheriff of Hardin county.

The second was Will Lane, 25, a negro, convicted at Pineville, Ky., on a charge of killing his wife. Lane was the first negro to be electrocuted in Kentucky since that mode was adopted for the death penalty. Both men passed the night calmly and walked unassisted to the death chair.

S. S. MEETING AUGUST 21

The annual meeting of the Ohio Valley Sunday School Association will be held Saturday August 21, in the Vaughter's Grove near Friendship, on the West Side. A splendid program will be prepared for the event and the largest attendance in recent years is anticipated.

The Movies

Charley Chaplin
And Big Bargain Program
Columbia Tonight

For tonight's program, Manager Tynes announces another of those big bargain programs he has been offering his patrons at the popular Columbia, consisting of five reels of high class picture entertainment.

The headliner is "The Criminal," a three reel Broadway Star feature, powerfully acted and elegantly produced with Maurice Costello, Norma Talmadge and an all-star cast of the cream of Vitagraph actors.

Two good comedies are also on tomorrow's program, one of which is Charley Chaplin in a regular riot entitled "His Favorite Pastime."

Remember the Columbia is showing big bargain programs and the very cream of feature pictures every day and you can't fail to see a good "show" at the Columbia any day in the week.

At The Exhibit

Today's show at The Exhibit theatre consists of three different feature pictures: the first, "Crossed Wires"; the second, Renfrew's Musical Pictures; and the third, "The Only Cook."

"Crossed Wires" is a two reel feature by Thanhouser. It is a stirring Western drama, full of gripping scenes, dramatic climaxes, wonderful acting and beautiful settings. Such a play assures the audiences of a master-piece as this company is well known and well liked for its wonderful Western pictures, and Florence La Badie is taking the leading role.

Renfrew Musical Pictures have been shown at this theatre for some time, and if appreciation can be judged by attendance, these pictures are certainly well liked and appreciated by the Portsmouth theatre-going public.

"The Only Cook" is a single reel comedy and is a cracker-jack.

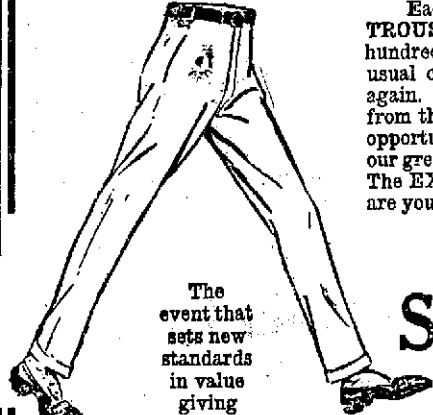

See this wonderful program at the cool, comfortable and clean Exhibit today for only five cents.

MAY HAVE CLUE TO "HI YALLER"

G. C. Robinson, a police officer, of Jenkins, Letcher county, Ky., is in the city conferring with the police officials regarding Henry Gleum, alias "High Yaller," the alleged gun-man in the Baucus murder case. Robinson is said to possess a good clue as to the whereabouts of the fugitive negro, but before acting wanted to satisfy himself about certain things in connection with the case. Letcher county is in the extreme southeastern part of Kentucky and bordering on the Cumberland mountains.

SEEK NEW LOCATION

The Conger Printing company, whose plant has been located on Front street west of Court for the past three years, may be moved to the room in the Turley block just vacated by the Liberty Clothing company.

Jedley Conger, of the firm, admitted Friday that the firm was casting about for an uptown location and was figuring seriously on taking over the Turley room, but the negotiations have not been closed.

WANTS BLIND COUPLE MOVED

The mayor has appealed to Joe Distel to oust a blind couple named Lee from his property at Gallia and Clay streets, as a result of their disturbance there a few nights ago, and also to surround the lot on that corner with a tight board fence because in its present condition it is filled with old wagons and a crop of weeds.

BOLD ROBBERY

In broad daylight a sneak-thief entered the home of Mrs. Sidney Hart, residing at 1664 Gallia street, and boldly departed with her daughter's, Miss Mahel Hart's, pocket-book, which contained $3.25. The pocket-book was in a handbag left lying on the dining-room table, but the thief did not take the handbag. Mrs. Hart stated Friday that she was only out of her dining-room a few moments, but during her absence an unknown thief entered her home and left with her daughter's pocket-book, which contained several trinkets in addition to $3.25.

MR. WOODROW ALSO IN RACE

An item in Thursday's Times nomination stated that this left concerning the retirement of D. Attorney Auschman Skahan a free field. This was an error, the writer forgetting that there was still another candidate in the field in the person of Attorney Alex C. Woodrow. Mr. Woodrow is very much of a candidate, he is busy at work on his political fences, and he and his friends are very hopeful over the outlook.

Hello Girls Car Stuck In Mud

After supper at Millbrook park last evening, the Home Telephone girls started out for a ride in the telephone truck, and in going through the temporary road back of the park, stuck in the mud and for a time it looked as though there might be serious trouble. Mr. Fenner, of New Boston, came by in his fire passenger car and removed the scared girls to a place of safety.

C. & O. DERAILMENT

West bound C. & O. freight train No. 95 derailed one car at Frost, Ky., Friday morning, bringing as they used the east bound tracks. The derailment was caused, it is thought, by a broken beam on this morning. Passenger trains Nos. 5 and 17 arrived in South Portsmouth on time this morning as they used the east bound tracks. The derailment was caused, it is thought, by a broken beam.

NO POSTS---NO FENCE; POLICE MUST KEEP EYES OPEN

The N. & W. railway, which declined to remove iron posts from its right of way near Paradise alley to save Police Officer Tom Albrecht from stumbling over them, also finds it impossible to meet the second request, to erect a fence at the point named, believing that this would not be consistent.

"JIM" AND "COONIE" DISCOVER THEY ARE GENUINE "HAS BEENS"

It's pretty tough to have your bluff called; but it's tougher than boarding house steak to learn you're a "has-been."

To discover these two realities in one afternoon makes it still tougher—with no note of tenderness at all, at all. If you don't know what it is to be caught four-flushing—if you know not the pangs that follow the discovery you're a "used-to-be," ask Conrad Roth or Jas. Finney—either can bring the briny tears by their lucid recital. Just a few short days ago, "Jim" and "Coonie" were living over their boy-hood days. The fire of youth lighted up their rosy round faces, and, by heck, they imagined they were just as young as they used to be.

Says Jim to "Coonie," says he, "Coonie, blamed if I don't believe I am as good a ball player as some of those fellows in the big show. Why, I am pretty-tolerable carpenter, but my wind is good and my eyes as keen as those of an eagle—never felt better in my life and really feel like cutting a pigeon wing."

And "Coonie" chimes in, chimed he—"Why of course you are young—man is only as old as he thinks. As for myself I can throw a ball just as hard, put on as much stuff, too, as I did when I used to stand those hill-billies on their backs. What say you to organizing a team among the insurance men and hurling a dare-devil deft to any amateur organization in the city—we can lick the suff' n' out of the whole works."

"Agreed," said Jim. "Call up The Times and issue that challenge, and make her strong, too."

And "Coonie" did. And the challenge went forth. "Twice accepted, too, by the clerks."

In the meantime "Coonie" and Jim had the opportunity to try out themselves. They played a game against a Sunday school aggregation, and the next day—Mein Gott in Himmel.

They were so stiff and sore that they fairly creaked. Arnie and witch-hazel had no more effect on their stiffened joints than so much water.

And it was then they had an attack of cold-feet, the pip and blind staggers.

It was then they discovered they were "has-beens."

Oh, terrible and startling discovery.

Youth—the flexibility of which is the asset of all well-groomed athletes—had left them. Age, who must be served, had robbed them of buoyancy, bringing them face to face with the stern reality that their days on the diamonds had come to an end—that it was them for the speculators' bench.

And then the two penned a sorrowful note to the clerks, and admitted that their challenge took in too much territory.

They insist, however, that they would not be adverse to playing a team composed of Davy Jones, Dr. G. W. Marshall, James Hagarty, Theodore Doty, Atty. T. C. Anderson, George D. Scudder, Rev. E. G. Hamilton, etc., etc. The only stipulation being that the game be no more than a five inning affair and out on the first bounce. They will interpose no objections if the base paths be shortened twenty feet. Games to be called after the sun goes down.

VISITS HIS "DOUBLE SON-IN-LAW"

Henry Jeanguenot, aged 70 years, a veteran blacksmith of Pond Creek, was a business visitor in the city Friday. Despite his advanced age, Mr. Jeanguenot is hale and hearty and seemingly good for many more years to come. He has a "double son-in-law" in Theo. Pierron, local agent for the Moerlin Brewing Company, for when his first wife died Mr. Pierron married her sister.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES ALL HER LIFE

But Miss Ayres Got a Beautiful Complexion at a Cost of Only $2.00

Nov. 23, 1914—"All my life my face was covered completely with a mass of pimples, blackheads and blotches. I spent a lot of money on numerous remedies and treatments without success and no relief at all. I tried so many things that I was afraid my case could not be cured. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap seemed to do me good right from the first. I used two jars of Resinol Ointment and some Resinol Soap, the total cost being only $2.00, and this completely cured my case. My skin is without a blemish and I am the possessor of a beautiful complexion." (Signed) Mabel Ayres, Stone Mountain, Va.

Every druggist sells Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment, and physicians have prescribed them for twenty years in the treatment of eczema and other tormenting skin troubles.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid. Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

Co. K Boys Show Up Well At Camp

Camp Willis, July 29.—Today was a busy day. A five-mile hike was accomplished in the afternoon. It had been scheduled for morning, but rain prevented the men from going out. A provisional regiment was formed of all the non-commissioned officers of the regiment. The K boys did mighty well and the whole drill was pronounced a great success by the commanding officer. This was in the nature of a preparation for the heavy work on Friday and Saturday.

NOTES.
Private C. B. Anderson, who has been acting as company clerk, was given his sergeant's stripes. He will make a "peach."

Private Leonard M. Scott has been promoted to the rank of corporal, vice Penix.

Guard duty for Co. K tonight in the rain. It came as a big and unwelcome surprise. Sergeants Wood, Padan and Matthews are detailed with 27 men. Capt. Smith is officer of the day and Lieutenant Horchow is officer of the guard. Lieutenant Harsha is commanding officer of the company.

ISLAND PEACHES

Ottawa County Fruit Growers' Exchange,
Port Clinton, Ohio.

Since June 1st the Dravo Contracting Company, building piers for the C. & O. Northern bridge over the Ohio river at Sciotoville, has built thirteen piers on the Kentucky side of the bridge. There remains to complete the pier work one pier on top of the bank and the large shore pier. High water has stopped work on the bank pier several times. There are only three of the large piers, one in the middle of the river and one on each shore.

The heavy fill through the Kentucky bottom land to the hill is being made by W. W. Boxley and Company. The fill comes to the last pier of the bridge. The fill, one of the biggest of the whole route, is about three miles in length and brings the track out from Limeville to the bridge.

The Dravo Contracting Co. will have all their work complete by September, all work on the Ohio side being completed several months ago.

GRANDMA USED SAGE
TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to bring back color, gloss, thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and killing hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation. If your hair is falling gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 60 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and lustrant.

LOYALTY DAY IS TO BE ONE GRAND SUCCESS, FACTORIES MAY CLOSE

"A whirlwind campaign!" That is the slogan adopted by the volunteer committee of base ball fans who have shouldered the task of making "Loyalty Day", Thursday, August 5th, at Millbrook Park, the biggest base ball day in the history of the Peerless City.

At a meeting of the committee, are now in possession of the tags held at The Times office Thursday night, arrangements were definitely made to start out the various sub-committees next Monday in the hope they will have no trouble in disposing of more than 1000 loyalty tags. The various committees will meet at 11:30 a. m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, where notes will be compared and daily reports made. The members of the various committees

Charles Daehler, president of the Retail Merchants' Association, is authority for the statement that the members of that organization will be pleased to help towards the success of Loyalty Day by closing their stores all of next Thursday afternoon, thus giving the proprietors and clerks the opportunity of witnessing the game between Portsmouth and Maysville.

It is also quite likely that several if not all of the big manufacturing plants will close at noon Thursday. P. E. Selby, of The Selby Shoe Co., has taken under advisement the possibility of closing of that big industry. Mr. Selby gave the committee that waited on him a most gracious reception and stated that the Selby Shoe Co. could be counted upon to do its part towards helping the team over the financial rocks. The committee hope to wait upon the other manufacturers within the next day or so.

One well known citizen who does not wish his name made public at this time, has agreed to take 100 tickets. In other words he will donate $100 towards helping the team over the rough places. There are others, perhaps, who will be as liberal and it is a positive fact there are hundreds who will purchase from one to ten tickets.

mind to give the ticket sellers the right kind of a reception. The fans are simply donating their efforts and time for the good of the Peerless City, the best town in the whole world.

MEXICANS MAY GET STAY OF EXECUTION

Phoenix, Ariz., July 30.—By vacating his own order, denying a writ of habeas corpus in the case of the four Mexicans condemned to hang today in the state prison at Florence, Judge McAllister, of the superior court, opened the way for an appeal to the state supreme court, which will serve as a stay of execution at least until September, when that tribunal convenes.

Action was taken by the court after it was shown that his earlier order denying the writ of habeas corpus yesterday prevented an attempt that would act as a stay of execution.

The Mexicans were charged with the murder of four white persons at Ray, Arizona. A reprieve was granted last May, only a short time before the date set for the hangings, on the request of W. J. Bryan, at that time secretary of state.

An appeal previously has been taken in the case of the fifth condemned Mexican.

EASTLAND'S CAPTAIN SAYS HE'S INNOCENT

Chicago, July 30.—Federal and state grand juries and the board representing the steamboat inspection service resumed their inquiry today into the responsibility for the capsizing of the steamship Eastland last Saturday.

State's Attorney Hoyne was prepared to ask for indictments in response to recommendations of the coroner's jury, but he has not decided whether to ask for indictments of federal steamboat inspectors Reid and Eckliff. Secretary Redfield had informed Mr. Hoyne of legal technicalities that might make it impossible to bring these men to trial in state courts. As a result of Judge Landis' instructions, the investigation of the federal grand jury will cover every phase of the construction and operation of the vessel.

"It is sufficient to say that we will investigate every person and circumstance as has been directed by Judge Landis," said United States District Attorney Clyne.

Captain Henry Pedersen, of the Eastland, declared at the county jail that he would make a light to prove himself innocent.

"The responsibility is not mine," he said. "I often noticed the boat list but it never was anything serious and I believed the engineer knew his duties and business. I had certain duties to perform and my power was limited to those. I carried out orders to the best of my ability."

City officials today started an investigation of every excursion and passenger vessel on the lakes out of Chicago. The work is being done by a sub-committee of the city council in conjunction with the engineering bureau and the harbor master.

Tabernacle Services Growing In Interest

The interest in the East Portsmouth Tabernacle services continues to increase. A good crowd listened to the sermon by Evangelist King from the text in Matt. 16:26: "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" The evangelist spoke with great earnestness concerning the "Value of the Immortal Soul." A short synopsis of the sermon follows: "But little thought and attention is given to the soul. Men make every preparation to take care of their bodies, but God prizes the immortal soul more than all the riches of this world or any creature that He has made. In this text God is trying to draw a picture of the value of the human soul. As we view the wonderful works of God as manifested in nature, the sun, the moon, the brilliant stars, the hills, the valleys, the great natural wealth of the world, we ask ourselves the question: 'What is man that thou art mindful of him?' There is something beside the wealth and the beauty of this world that men should be interested in. As you think of your dying day, when you will have to pass from this world and leave all, ask yourself the question, 'What shall it profit me if I gain the whole world and lose my own soul?' As I see the great masses of humanity hurrying to and fro on the streets, in the street cars, on the trains, in the depots, it almost makes me shudder to think of the awful responsibility of the minister of the Gospel who must bear the message of warning and good news to this great mass of eternity-bound people. They have no thought of God; they think only of this life and its needs. At the close of this life all you can possibly occupy of this old world is six feet of earth, and after a few years they will rot about you and be rising corn and potatoes over your grave. No matter how nice you may be, or how popular you may be, or how rich you may be, in a few years you will be a back number. We hear people chattering and hurrying for some of our popular people and we look at them and what do we see, only six feet of mud. Let some one go down to the old-fashioned carpenter's bench and confess out and straighten up and get his sins forgiven and get up shouting for King Jesus and people are horror-stricken and say he is crazy. The reason some folks don't get religion is because they are afraid someone will laugh at them and call them a crank. Do you know it takes a crank to turn things? A crank is all right if the devil doesn't turn it. What shall it profit me if I neglect my soul and come to eternity without God—my wealth, my position, my popularity all gone, and I stand before the Judge to give an account of my actions here? You can answer the question of my text yourself. Men and women look at the business of this world from the standpoint of profit. Men and women haven't judgment enough to see that that is what it means in the spiritual world. You may have all of the good things of this world a few years, and the years soon pass away and you stand before God and a long eternity bankrupt, for you left your possessions behind. You could not bring them with you and you failed to 'lay up for yourself treasures in heaven.' If we fail to take advantage of our opportunity to lay up treasures in heaven for a long eternity, we have missed it all.

At the close of the evangelist's earnest words of exhortation one woman requested the prayers of the Christian people.

Services each evening at 7:30.

May Pipe Gas To Olive Hill Plants

The Herald Dispatch of Huntington, W. Va., Friday said:

"Huntington men are the principal stockholders in the Clinton Oil and Gas company, which is to be incorporated this week for the purpose of taking over and developing eight thousand acres of oil and gas land comprising a tract in Lawrence and Elliott counties, Kentucky. This territory, though practically untouched, is in the line of development and the fact that there are several producing wells, capable of a daily output of several million feet of gas, gives rise to the belief that an immense production is possible."

"The object of the development of the field at this time is said to be the furnishing of gas to the brick kilns of Olive Hill and vicinity, where a market for ten million feet daily is open."

Will Soon Have Paved Way From Big To Little Scioto

A solid stretch of paved roadway from the Big Scioto river to the Little Scioto river by the middle of December is the prediction made by City Engineer George S. Wilhelm, who reports all public work progressing at a satisfactory rate.

All brick for the north side of the Gallia pike paving has been laid by the S. Monroe & Son company through to the east corporation line, and work on the south side will begin next week, or as soon as the street railway company shifts its track to the center of the street, which will likely be done Sunday.

Kelley Bros. are putting down the sewers in the city part of Walnut street preparatory to the paving of that thoroughfare and are making the excavation for the curb and gutter, having curbing laid from the corporation line up to Ohio avenue, New Boston, and the rough grading partially done. As soon as they finish this they will begin the improvement of Norfolk avenue. Kelley Bros. also expect to begin work Monday on the improvement of Harvard Place.

Contractor A. E. Miller is putting the finishing touches to the so-called Sixth ward outfall sewer from the Chillicothe crossing past the Portsmouth Paving Brick company's plant.

Engineer Wilhelm has just finished up the data for the driveways over the proposed new flood wall at Chillicothe, Union and Officers streets and may also provide for a driveway at the old Mill street pumping station.

Follows Father In Death

Deprived of the love of a husband when Fred Plummer fell beneath the wheels of a C. & O. train just two weeks ago and was ground to pieces, Mrs. Inez Lawson Plummer had her cup of sorrow filled to overflowing Thursday evening when death invaded her home at 2312 Ninth street and claimed her only child, Ada Marie, aged 7 months, a bright and winsome child who was the joy and sunshine of Mrs. Plummer's life. It will be recalled that Mr. Plummer boarded a C. & O. train at Vanceburg and was speeding to this city when he met death beneath the wheels of a rapidly moving C. & O. train. Mrs. Plummer is crushed with sorrow, and the sympathy of the community goes out to her.

The child fell a victim to cholera infantum and was ill but a few hours. The body was shipped to Vanceburg, where interment will be made Saturday.

FARMERS ASKED TO AID THE NEEDY OHIO MINERS

The mayor is in receipt of the following letter acknowledging the efforts done locally towards aiding in the Ohio Miners' relief work:

Hon. Adam Frick, Mayor, Portsmouth, Ohio.
Dear Sir:—Your letter of the 26th inst., to the Governor, relative to your action taken towards relieving the destitute miners, has been referred to me.

We wish to thank you for your prompt and generous co-operation in this matter.

Any further information that you may desire in regard to furnishing of supplies or cash, will be promptly furnished. What is most needed is food of a substantial character, such as flour, potatoes, coffee, beans, etc. We trust that we may receive supplies or cash as soon as possible, as the situation is very serious.

Again thanking you, I am, Yours very truly,
E. S. BRYANT,

Colonel Assistant Adjutant Gen. in charge of relief supplies and contributions.

Among the latest cash contributors to the relief fund are George Sommer and F. B. M. Corson.

Appeal
To all whom it may concern:

In the interest of the suffering families of southern Ohio, in whose behalf the Governor of this State has issued his appeal, I suggest that farmers as well as other producers not overlook delivering to the various receiving stations throughout the city, designated in the proclamation, any commodities that they may be able to donate, such as meats, potatoes, cabbage, apples, beans, butter, eggs, flour, meal or many of the other articles that may be forwarded by express or freight.

This I urge that much of the sustenance of life may be received and delivered in advance of prolonged suffering.

Business men have been prompt and generous in sending their checks, which are endorsed and forwarded to the Adjutant General's Department, Columbus, Ohio, at the close of each business day.

Editors will please carry this notice in their weekly editions to the end that people in the outlying sections may be advised as to the necessity existing.

Respectfully submitted,
ADAM FRICK, Mayor.

DISCUSS BECKER EXECUTION

There is much discussion about men. Major Joe Bonzo made a town as to the guilt or innocence of Charles Becker, the New York police lieutenant, who was electrocuted early Friday. Opinion is divided among the local policemen. Major Joe Bonzo made a small wager that he would never be put to death and lost. John M. Doerr, well known cigar manufacturer, is firmly of the belief that Becker died an innocent man.

"Slapping" Alleged
Mrs. Emma Ward, of 1320 Waller street, filed an affidavit against her neighbor, Mrs. Jesse Bliss, Friday morning, for alleged slapping her daughter. The case was set for hearing in police court Saturday morning.

BECKER PAYS DEATH PENALTY

MUMBLES PRAYER AS ELECTRICITY CUTS OFF HIS LIFE

GERMANS
HAMMER
WARSAW

London, July 30.—(Warsaw, the third city of Russia, and the goal for which the German armies in the East have been striving since October, is at last in the throes of abandonment.

Germans in overwhelming numbers are at the gates of the Polish capital, and dispatches from that city itself and from Petrograd say that further resistance would be useless.

Discounted not only through France and Great Britain, but in Russia itself, the fall of the city is expected hourly, and the problem now is to move the Russian armies intact, threatened as they are from the south by Austro-Germans and more seriously from the north, where the German forces, which have swept through Poland, are aiming at the railway front Warsaw to Petrograd.

This latter menace, the British press admits is imminent, and the hope in the allied country now is not for the safety of Warsaw, but for the continued cohesion of the Russian army.

The Warsaw post-office already has been shifted to some point to the eastward, the populace has been warned to remain calm, and presumably for days Russian troops have been stripping the city of everything of value.

German aviators are hovering over the city, and according to German advices, plans have been completed for the triumphant entrance of the German emperor, accompanied by his consort.

With Warsaw captured, whether or not it proves a conquest of lasting strategic advantage, a great wave of enthusiasm will sweep over Germany and Austria-Hungary, and it is predicted here that the armies of the central powers will then seek to force a period of trench warfare, meanwhile showing a great force of men and guns, with the idea of resuming the battering towards Calais, and perhaps toward Paris.

ENTIRE JAPANESE
CABINET RESIGNS

Tokio, July 30.—The Japanese cabinet, headed by Count Okuma as premier, has tendered its resignation to Emperor Omei, minister of the interior, following an investigation into bribing charges in the election last March. Viscount Omei's resignation was sanctioned by the emperor after a report on the situation had been made to him by Count Okuma.

Several members and former members of the Imperial Diet are involved in the bribery investigation. K. Hayashida, who had been chief secretary of the lower house for twenty years, was arrested Wednesday in connection with Viscount Omei, who was to have received a gift of $50,000 from a candidate for membership in the house.

TWO ARE EXECUTED IN KENTUCKY PRISON

Edenville, Ky., July 30.—For the third time in the history of Kentucky, a double electrocution took place this morning at 3:30 o'clock, at the Edenville penitentiary.

The first to be executed was Turner Graham, Jr., 24, a white man, convicted for the killing of R. J. McIntire, sheriff of Hardin county.

The second was Will Lane, 28, a negro, convicted at Pineville, Ky., on a charge of killing his wife. Lane was the first negro to be electrocuted in Kentucky since that mode was adopted for the death penalty. Both men passed the night calmly and walked unassisted to the death chair.

DYING DECLARATION SAYS
HE'S INNOCENT OF CRIME

“Helen Becker Is The Purest, Noblest Woman Living”
Declares Condemned Murderer Just Before Death

Ossining, N. Y., July 30.—The following statement was given out by Charles Becker a few moments before he was executed and was entitled by himself, “My Dying Declaration.”

Gentlemen:

“I stand before you in my full senses, knowing that no power on earth can save me from the grave that is about to receive my body.

“In the face of that, in the teeth of those who condemned me and in the presence of my God and your God I proclaim my absolute innocence of the foul crime for which I must die.

“You are now about to witness my destruction by the state which is organized to protect the lives of the innocent.

“May the Almighty God pardon everyone who has contributed to any degree to my untimely death.

“And, now on the brink of my grave, I declare to the world that I am proud to have been the husband of the purest, noble woman that ever lived—Helen Becker.

“This acknowledgment is the only legacy I can leave her. I bid you all good-bye. Father, I am ready to go. Amen.”

(Signed) CHARLES BECKER.

Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, N. Y., July 30.—Charles Becker was put to death in the electric chair this morning for the killing of Herman Rosenthal, the New York gambler.

The former New York police lieutenant retained his composure and protested his innocence to the last. He went to his death with a photograph of his wife pinned over his heart.

Three shocks were given before the prison physicians pronounced Becker dead at 5:55 o'clock. Becker led the way to his own execution. The condemned man sat up all night on the edge of his cot, calmly talking to Deputy Warden Charles H. Johnson.

“Will Meet It Quietly”

“I have got to face it,” said Becker, “and I am going to meet it quietly and without trouble to any one.”

The deputy warden left Becker about an hour before the time set for the execution and when the priests, Father W. E. Cashin, the prison priest, and Father Curry, of New York, came to administer the last rites they found the man who instigated Herman Rosenthal's murder, with his face resting on his hand gazing at the prison floor. The priests remained with him to the end.

It was shortly after five o'clock when the first of the witnesses of the execution began to assemble outside the prison walls. Quietly their names were checked off by Deputy Warden Johnson who directed them to take their places at a gateway that led directly to the execution chamber.

Then the witnesses were led to the place of execution in a new death house which had been built adjoining the old execution chamber, where the four gunmen were put to death over a year ago for killing Rosenthal.

When the witnesses were seated, Deputy Warden Johnson nodded to Principal Keeper Fred Dornier and they left the room through a small wooden door that led to the death cells beyond where Becker was praying with his spiritual advisers.

Prays With Crucifix

Becker rose to his feet when he saw Johnson and took a crucifix from the hand of the prison priest. To Father Curry, Becker gave his last message as he took his place at the head of the little file of men that marched to the room of death.

Becker's message which he uttered to the priest, was:

“I am not guilty by conspiracy or in any other way of the death of Herman Rosenthal. I am sacrificed to my friends. Bear this message to the world and my friends. Amen.”

The one time police officer hesitated as he entered the room. It seemed to witnesses that he was startled that the death chair was so near at hand.

He looked quickly at the double row of witnesses, glanced at the floor, swept with his eyes the whitened walls of the room, and then suddenly, as if coming to himself, walked briskly over the rubber mat and seated himself in the electric chair.

Behind Becker followed the prison

“I'll Never Rest Until I've Exposed Methods
Used To Convict Charles, Says Mrs. Becker

Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, N. Y., July 30.—A statement credited to Mrs. Becker was given out here shortly after her husband's death.

“I shall never rest,” she was quoted as saying, “until I have exposed the methods which were used to convict my husband. Whether he was guilty or not there was no justification for the means employed to convict him.

“I would rather lose all other members of my family, as dear as they are, than lose Charlie. No one can take his place. In all of the ten years of our married life I never had occasion once to regret that I was his wife.

“Charlie was no angel. He made no pretense of being one. He was just an ordinary human being—and perhaps that is why I loved him so.”

Dr. W. O. Stillman, of Auburn, who assisted in the Becker execution, said Becker showed unusual resistance to the electric fluid. After the autopsy Dr. Stillman said:

“I noticed no unusual effects upon Becker's vital organs. The way he resisted the strong current was remarkable, showing him to be an unusually powerful man.”

It was expected that Becker's body will be removed some time today to New York, where funeral services will probably be held on Sunday.

July 11—Herman Rosenthal, a New York gambler, publicly accused Police Lieutenant Charles A. Becker of graft.

July 14—District Attorney Whitman agreed to take up the Rosenthal charges, which were, in effect, that Becker had been a silent partner in Rosenthal's gambling house and that the two had ceased to be friends when Becker demanded what Rosenthal considered too large a share of the profits.

July 15—Rosenthal promised to lay full evidence against Becker before the district attorney on the following day.

July 16—Rosenthal was murdered at 4:57 a. m. in front of the Hotel Metropole. The four players escaped in a Gray motor car.

July 17—Shapiro and Libby, owners of the “gray murder car,” declared the car had been hired on the night of the tragedy by Jack Rose, gambler and intimate friend of both Becker and Rosenthal.

July 18—Rose surrendered and was held for murder.

July 21—“Bridge” Weber, friend of Rose, arrested and held for murder.

July 22—Harry Valton, another friend of Rose, arrested and held for murder.

July 23—District Attorney Whitman announced the actual players to be the four gunmen—“Dago Frank,” “Lefty Louie,” “Whitey Lewis” and “Egg the Blood.”

July 25—“Dago Frank,” one of the gunmen, arrested.

July 26—Rose, Weber and Valton turned state's evidence, accusing Becker of instigating the murder, which they procured. Becker arrested same night.

Aug. 1—“Whitey Lewis,” the second gunman, arrested.

Aug. 5—Becker entered a formal plea of not guilty.

Aug. 16—Confession of Jack Rose and full story of the murder made public.

Sept. 14—Arrest of the remaining gunmen, “Lefty Louie” and “Egg the Blood.”

Oct. 7—Beginning of Becker's first trial.

Oct. 24—Becker found guilty of murder in the first degree.

Oct. 30—Becker, sentenced to die during week of Dec. 9, 1912, put in Sing Sing death house.

Nov. 18—The four gunmen convicted of first degree murder.

Dec. 1—Becker appealed from his conviction.

1914

Feb. 24—Becker's conviction set aside and new trial ordered.

April 13—Execution of the four gunmen at Sing Sing.

May 6—Beginning of Becker's second trial.

May 22—Becker convicted for the second time and sentenced to death.

1915

May 25—Becker's second conviction upheld by the court of appeals.

July 1—Governor (former district attorney) Whitman granted Becker a reprieve from the week of July 12 to the week of July 25.

July 19—Justice Hughes of the Supreme Court of the United States refused the application of Becker's counsel for a writ of error.

my destruction by the state, which is organized to protect the lives of the innocent.

“May Almighty God pardon every one who has contributed in any degree to my untimely death.

“And, now on the brink of the grave, I declare to the world that I am proud to have been the husband of the purest, noblest woman that ever lived—Helen Becker.

This acknowledgment is the only legacy I can leave her. I bid you all good bye. Father, I am ready to go. Amen.”

Remains Composed

After his wife had said farewell, shortly after midnight, Becker maintained a casual conversation with Deputy Warden Johnson who sat beside him. Sometimes he smoked cigars, after which he would let his head fall upon his hand and gaze reflectively at the concrete floor for minutes at a time. Dawn found him seated on the edge of his cot, carefully pinning a photograph of his wife on his shirt just over his heart. Then, as if he desired to have her all to himself Becker put on a thin black alpaca coat which he tightly buttoned. The photograph was not seen by the witnesses until the prison physician opened his coat as he sat in the death chair.

Becker was put to death by the state executioner whose name is unknown to the public. This man succeeded. State Executioner Davis and he said he would not take the job unless his name was kept secret. He lives in a little town upstate and went about his work briskly. Becker's executioner said in his opinion Becker died instantly at the first contact.

An autopsy, according to law, was held after the execution. After Becker's body had been removed from the electric chair, Samuel Haines, a negro murderer, was brought into the execution room and electrocuted. One of Becker's last requests to Warden Osborne was that he be put to death before the negro, Haines.

Rosenthal Shot in 1912

Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, for whose murder Charles Becker died in the electric chair, was shot to death by hired gunmen in the early morning of July 16, 1912, in front of the Hotel Metropole on Forty-third street, a few steps from Broadway. The murder was the swift culmination of sensational charges made a few days before by Rosenthal against Becker in which Rosenthal asserted that Becker, then head of the Strong Arm Squad, of detectives, freely sold police protection and had accumulated thousands of dollars of graft money.

Rosenthal went further than that. He swore that Becker was his silent partner in a gambling enterprise that failed and that Becker, angered by losses where he had expected large profits, raided the Rosenthal establishment and drove Rosenthal out of business by stationing uniformed policemen on his premises day and night.

These charges were published and District Attorney Whitman began an investigation of them. He summoned Rosenthal to the Criminal Courts building and listened to his story. An appointment was made with Rosenthal for the next day. Before the time came, Rosenthal was murdered.

When the assassins had done their work, they ran across the street, jumped into a grey automobile which was waiting at the about his work briskly. Becker's

Hurlsmen Are There

Portsmouth has two hurlers, who up to June 30, had not made an error. Ray Hancock and Larry Jacobus. And these boys have been hitting timely all season. Portsmouth has certainly been blessed with a great hurling staff this year.

HEATED FIGHTS FOR THE PENNANTS WILL BE SEEN IN ALL THE LEAGUES; TEAMS ARE GROUPED AT TOP AND PROMISE THRILLS

Baseball fans seem to have been bored with the game this season and not to have gathered at the parks in their usual manner. Whatever may be the cause of the poor attendance, it is sure they cannot blame the league races. It is now to be seen that in the American, National and Federal leagues and the American Association the first three and four teams at the top are neck and neck.

Ironton Players Will File Suit

The Ironton Ironmen of Friday morning said: Attorney I. O. Yates will this morning enter suit in common pleas court to recover $22.50 for Outfielder Paul Gilmore and $26 for Infielder "Red" Perry, of the Ironton ball club. The players claim that this amount is due them for services rendered the club. They both stated last night that the club officials had recognized their claim to be a full one and that an offer to pay a portion of the amount now and the remainder at a later date, was made to them but was rejected. Both men, it is understood, have secured berths in a Chicago amateur team.

Mills Goes Home

After saying goodbye to friends here, catcher Mills left Friday morning for his home in Spring, O. He was accompanied by John Hinton, colored, who escorted Mills from the St. Joseph hospital of Lexington to this city. Hinton has been an orderly in the hospital for 18 years, and has assisted in every operation performed in the hospital during his employment there. He took a great fancy to Mills and insisted on accompanying the local catcher to his home.

HAS WONDERFUL CONTROL

When Alexander The Great dished up a base on balls at St. Louis Wednesday, he brought to an end a most unique record. In five previous games against the Reds the Philadelphia pitchers got by without walking or hitting a single batter. It's control of this marvelous sort which is making the Philadelphia pitchers mighty hard to beat. And much of this control is due to the work of Manager Pat Moran, a veteran receiver, who realizes fully the destruction wrought by a few bases on balls.

Chapman Signs

Cleveland, July 30.—If Cy Falkenberg's contract to Cleveland did not do anything else it brought a new three-year contract to Ray Chapman, Indian shortstop. Talky, while here, sought to persuade Chapman and Jackson to promise to handle to place his revalent star on the auction block this winter and sell him to the highest bidder. When owner Sumner heard of this he would never again play with the Athletics, but he realizes Frank is a valuable player and he doesn't intend to pass up an asset like the Frappe, Md. Chapman figures that Baker's enforced idleness this season will be punishment enough, so the home run hero will be anchored off before the next campaign starts.

BAKER TO GO ON BLOCK

Frank Baker of home run fame, is going to be back in the American League next season, but he'll not be with the Athletics. Connie Mack is going to place his revalent star on the auction block this winter and sell him to the highest bidder. When owner Sumner heard of this he would never again play with the Athletics, but he realizes Frank is a valuable player and he doesn't intend to pass up an asset like the Frappe, Md. Chapman figures that Baker's enforced idleness this season will be punishment enough, so the home run hero will be anchored off before the next campaign starts.

Ray Ryan May Sell Bittle & Applegate

The following from Thursday's Cincinnati Enquirer is of interest to local fandom as Ryan, Bittle and Applegate being with Charleston last year: Ray Ryan, the Cincinnati boy, managing the Rocky Mount team in the Virginia League, writes that he has two players who are sure to go up this fall. They are Bittle, a leftfielder, and Applegate, a pitcher. Bittle is leading the league in batting with an average of .321. He is a consistent hitter and has struck out only four times this year. Ryan, an excellent judge, says he is one of the best ball players he has ever seen. Applegate is the leading pitcher of the league. He has had offers for both men for immediate delivery, but has declined to let them go at this stage of the season. Ryan says that the Virginia League is having a very successful season and all the clubs are doing well.

NEW PITCHING FIND OF NATIONAL LEAGUE

Albert Leon Mamaux, the Pittsburgh youngster, is considered a pitching find in baseball circles. Mamaux has an assortment of fine curves, a fast ball with a wicked hop and a change of pace which would do credit to Mathewson. His record thus far this season has been exceptional; he pitched eighteen games and won fourteen of them.

Breaks Shot-Put Record But Fails of Reward

Bad luck still hobbles with poor Pat Ryan. The Giant Irishman tossed an old left-over cannon ball six feet "or so" farther than the world's record and after it was all measured and O. K'd the committee discovered that they had a trick tape measure among them. Now the powers that be are going to throw the loss out, because they are not sure of that tape measure.

REDS TWICE BEATEN

Down go the Reds. They dropped a double header to the climbing Boston Miracle Men yesterday 10 to 5 and 7 to 6. The Benches have certainly set the baseball world taking by the rapid strides they have made in the past three weeks. If the team has a good trip on its present swing around the West it will go home in shape to make the same sort of blish that made the Boston team famous last year.

Clarke Is Hopeful

Fred Clarke, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates says that his team has as much chance of winning the pennant as the Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Chicago or Boston clubs. Clarke figures that with Mamaux, Adams and Harman in shape the Pirates should win a lot of games during the balance of the season.

PORTSMOUTH GRABS FAST GAME DOWN IN LEXINGTON

Lexington, Ky., July 30. W HEN Brown lined one over the fence in the fourth inning of Thursday's Portsmouth-Lexington game for a home run he scored McClellan and Thomas ahead of him, but these runs were the only ones scored by Manager Guy's outfit as Jacobus was invincible in all the other innings. The game went 11 innings before Portsmouth finally won out 5 to 3. The winning runs came when Rorer passed two men in the 11th. Lingrel went in and he passed one, but the game was lost when McClellan let a roller get away from him and two runs scored. The all round remarkable work of Shortstop Caton, of the Portsmouth team featured the well played game. He secured a single and a double out of three trips to the plate and accepted 15 chances without a skip. Lexington fans applauding his wonderful work all through the game. Dillhoefer also cut in with a home run. The score:

GEORGE M. TAYLOR, Managing Editor.

HAS OUR SYMPATHY

We sympathize today with our friend, M. O. Wilson, editor of the Vanceburg Sun. M. O. has been state representative from Lewis county and he wants to go back; but according to his own confession in his own paper he is having one devil of a time connecting with the Republican nomination. He has bitter opposition and he lays all of this onto his advocacy of state-wide prohibition for Kentucky. He says that the Demom Rum trust has brought out and is financing his opponent and that there is an unholy alliance with the Democratic bosses at Vanceburg to aid and promote the candidacy of this friend of the flowing bowl. However, our brother editor finds consolation in the fact that every minister in Lewis county and the anti-saloon league has endorsed him, and he calls upon the friends of righteousness everywhere to rally to his cause and put him over a winner at the primary August seventh.

We are surprised though at Colonel Wilson being so frantic over his plight. With all the real good people in Lewis county at his back, we should think that he would sit calmly back and speculate on the size of his majority over the hosts of Saloon who are seeking his undoing. Surely Wilson does not believe that any of his real good and faithful friends will desert him in his hour of need!

But then you never can tell what a grateful electorate will do. They have been known to turn to strange idols and sacrifice faithful followers to gratify some whim or fancy.

THE DAY OF FREEDOM

Gorgeous, yes, gorgeous, is the only description of the style of raiment men are beginning to wear. Not here, of course. They will be a year arriving in the smaller towns. From Chicago newspapers we learn that business men are going to work these hot days in pale lavender linen suits, with yellow polka-dot neckties. Elderly gentlemen are taking vast pains to match their hats and their neckties with their whiskers. When the whiskers happen to be gray the result is vivid.

The rising generation of the heroic sex has taken to exposing its usually angular and projecting Adam's Apple between the wide rolls of a collar on a shirt copied from the style-Lord Byron is pictured as wearing.

Touring cars of glowing scarlet and youths in white with red socks, belts and bands on their wide brim picture hats.

This tickles us. Too long have men been condemned to the wearing of black and gray. Each of us has suppressed for years the desire to wear the gorgeous colors which are needed to set off figures fine or fat. Now that opportunity has come let man prove worthy of it. Let the teamsters wear corsage bouquets; the owners of Panama hats deck them with roses; put lace curtains tied with baby blue ribbon on automobile wind-shields, and go the whole length in the peacock line.—Bluefield Telegraph.

MAY GET THE FACTS

We read with much interest the charge in the McCormick advertisement, published in Thursday's Times, in which reference was made to the former Republican administration having made the annexation of New Boston impossible by giving free water to that city without requiring any share in the payment of the cost of the water works. That was what The Times said at the time this deal was put through. We strenuously pointed out the injustice to the tax payers and insisted that if New Boston wanted to have the advantages of Portsmouth she should come into the city. If our city government had hung out for the rights of the people of Portsmouth then, it would have brought about annexation in short order. But New Boston triumphed and Portsmouth surrendered. Now in the factional scrap among the Republicans we may find out who was responsible for the surrender, who handed to New Boston on a silver platter all that she demanded and then some.

Let the scrap go on. The people may thereby get at the facts.

The old gang still has a few trenches manned by the faithful as was evidenced by the ease and skill with which they sat down upon the aspirations of a McCormick supporter. named Bowser to be deputy clerk of the board of elections and handed the plum to a young man by the name of Johnley, who in consideration of the plum agreed to pull out of the race for the nomination for city solicitor. The Willis crowd has a man's size job on its hands in killing off the veterans. Don't lose sight of that fact.

We suppose the average candidate actually gets to thinking, before the campaign is over, that his election is supremely important to the public interest, says the Ohio State Journal. Yep, that's true. We've got five of 'em down here feeling that way about the Republican nomination for mayor.

In all the noise and clash of contending factions, we are pained to see that little mention is being made of the fact that the Hon. N. B. Gilliland is also running for the Republican nomination for mayor. Our own opinion is that Nate is diggin' a little mine. He is too darned quiet not to be up to some devilment.

Some people are certainly finicky. Here is the Youngstown Telegram complaining because a bridge is twenty-three years old, though quite usefully serving its purpose. Down here we would be glad enough to have any sort of an old bridge.

THEY SURELY KEEP THE COP BUSY

SAVE THE TREES

One of our friends in commending the editorial in Thursday's Times about the planting of trees, said that we should have gone a bit further and handed out some wholesome advice upon the care of the trees after they had been planted. "Why," said he, "I know of numbers of fine trees that had begun to die that could have been saved by proper care and trimming. Instead of this the citizens entrusted the pruning of the trees to ex-fishermen and ex-thief and ex-that or the other, to men who had no more idea of tree culture than to slash and cut and saw. They hacked off limbs here and there and the result was that the trees were soon dead. On Sixth street alone a dozen trees were mutilated by tree butchers and had to be removed."

We agree that only experts should be allowed to care for trees. Proper trimming is as essential as proper food to a human being and it should be done only by experts. In some way the city should have charge of or should regulate the care of the trees in the corporation. Then we would be sure to have competent men doing the work and the results would be in evidence in a very short while.

Hooray! The good old days are back. Free passes have been restored by our good young governor's decentralized and demutated board of agriculture and now each horny-handed son of toil in the state who has a pull can again flash a pass before the eyes of his unlucky neighbors who have to pony up the cash to see that spavined, flea-bitten and decaying advertising annex of the Columbus merchants, formerly known to fame as the Ohio State Fair.

If anybody comes around to you and asks what you will take for your automobile, you had better think twice and look up the pedigree of your questioner before you answer. It may be a detective from the tax commissioners office trying to find out what's the difference between the sale value and the tax value of your machine.

At the next shaking of the Willis plund tree Ada college is going to get five more appointments and Harry Bannion is going to get two more for his faithful and glue bunch in this city. If this thing keeps up Bannion will have to hire a policeman to keep the old guard of divine right office holders from coming over to his side and elaining him as their own.

There must be some exaggeration about these reports of munificent war orders coming from Europe. Government figures on exports show that munitions form only a trifling part of the magnificent total of over two billions for the last eleven months.

New Boston now has one paved street, but getting to it and off of it is the horror.

OLD NEW YORK

New York, July 30.—Kathryn Osterman, long a popular favorite, is leaving the legitimate stage to become a screen star. Her action, following upon the heels of Billie Burke and Raymond Hitchcock who are to stake their professional reputation upon the movie game future, is concrete evidence that big managers have a problem before them.

Not long ago the Frohman offices announced that the signing of a film contract by any star in the Frohman constellation would automatically end their contract. Billie Burke with a merry ha-ha signed a film contract the next day.

As a means of reprisal the big moving picture corporations are now inserting in their contracts clauses that will prevent film stars from appearing in the legitimate and so there you are.

Miss Osterman is to star with the Equitable Motion Pictures Corporation, a new $3,000,000 concern, and will appear in three spectacular features this coming winter. She admits frankly that studio work is much more pleasant—and not the least important more profitable.

Nat Nichols, one of the Broadway boulevardiers, dropped into a roof show the other night to enjoy the Hudson breezes and other things. He saw a chorus girl on the stage he used to know very well, and turning to a friend said: "It is Tillie. Whadda you know about that?"

After the performance he asked his friend to go to the stage door with him and see him renew his acquaintance with Tillie. They waited for some time and finally the girl came out. "Hello there, Tillie!" said Nat. Tillie gave a look and as she brushed by said to her chorus girl friend: "There's an unusual number of strangers in town this summer. One has to be careful not to step on them."

THE BUSINESS OF REFORM

The chief concern of every American is the reformation of somebody else. With the exception of certain corporations, organized base ball and a few other mercenary concerns, every organization in America is devoting most of its time to the sin that beset people in some other level of life. We have already reached that semi-heaven where nobody has to pay any attention to his own business—least of all to his own shortcomings. Perhaps, after we have had a rich experience in being our brothers' keepers, we may acquire sense enough to take care of ourselves.—From "Judge."

You just can't keep 'em from kicking. Here are the Boston Braves making a brave rush for the top of the heap and yet the staid Times of Portsmouth, N. H., stops the cheering long enough to croak: "Some day the management of the Braves may allow people to go to a game to see ball played and not to be spectators to a rough and tumble fight." In this portion of the vineyard we would be witness complacently enough to murder if the Cincinnati Reds would start a winning streak just for once.

Just as we thought, it has come, or is about to. West Virginia is going to ask the national government to pay the thirteen million dollar judgment, returned against her and in favor of Virginia, by the federal court.

What a difference turning a thing around makes. If the Cincinnati Reds had won as many games as they have lost and lost as many as they have won, they would be at the head of the class, instead of last as now.

Yep, there's always the silver lining. Biggest crops of record for this year. It'll not be much of a farmer that can't ride in an automobile.

Fooled Them
While going home from work, Blair passed a small boy who was sitting on the curb by a telephone pole, with a tin can by his side. Conversation ensued:
"Goin' fishin'?"
"Nope. Them's caterpillars. They crawl up trees and eat the leaves."
"What on earth are you doing with them?"
"Foolin' 'em."
"How?"
"Sendin' 'em up this telephone pole."

To Initiate A Class

It was too hot Thursday night for members of Massie Lodge, K. of P., to transact other than necessary routine business, but next Thursday night a grand time will be held. Sciotoville lodge degree team will come to Portsmouth and confer the third degree on three candidates, V. V. Donley, W. V. Tack and John C. Hatfield. Massie lodge will also be invited to attend.

TO ATTEND OUTING

A number of members of the local order of J. O. U. A. M. will attend the outing at Stockdale Saturday and Sunday. A large class of candidates will be initiated tonight, while Lieutenant Governor Arnold is scheduled to make an address. Only routine business was transacted at a meeting of the local order Friday night.

Will Go To Convention

John W. Evans, Grant Metcalfe and Thomas Slade, colored, will leave Monday for Springfield, O., where they will attend the annual convention of the Grand United Lodge of Odd Fellows, which will be in session several days. They go as delegates from Ogden Pride Lodge of Odd Fellows No. 4005, of this city.

Overcome By Heat

Benjamin Grayson, aged 70, while cutting weeds in his rear yard at his home on Eighth street, was overcome by heat Thursday afternoon and was in an unconscious condition for two hours. He rallied last night and was reported slightly improved Friday.

Little Girl Found

The little lost child found just as she was about to enter the Columbia theater Wednesday night, proved to be Lucile, 8-year-old daughter of Albert Edgington, a Washington Hotel barber. The tot slipped away from the family home, 1010 Third street, and for an hour the frantic parents and neighbors searched for her.

ADMIRAL FISKE'S FLYING TORPEDO BOAT MAY DESTROY A FLEET; SHIPS CAN BE ATTACKED BY MACHINE IN LAND-LOCKED HARBOR

New photograph of Rear Admiral Fiske and his torpedo-boat plane.

Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske's patent for an aero-torpedo boat for delivering submarine torpedoes from airships is attracting nation-wide attention. The Fiske flying-torpedo-boat would make it possible to attack a fleet within a land-locked harbor. Admiral Fiske contemplates equipping a monster aeroplane. Snapping down at a distance of five sea miles from the object of attack, the aircraft would drop its deadly missile into the water just as it would have been launched from a destroyer. The impact sets the torpedo's machinery in motion and it goes at a rate of more than forty knots an hour toward the enemy ship.

Follows Father In Death

Deprived of the love of a husband when Fred Plummer fell beneath the wheels of a C. & O. train just two weeks ago and was ground to pieces, Mrs. Inez Lawson Plummer had her cup of sorrow filled to overflowing Thursday evening when death invaded her home at 2312 Ninth street and claimed her only child, Ada Marie, aged 7 months, a bright and winsome child who was the joy and sunshine of Mrs. Plummer's life. It will be recalled that Mr. Plummer boarded a C. & O. train at Vanceburg and was speeding to this city when he met met death beneath the wheels of a rapidly moving C. & O. train. Mrs. Plummer is crushed with sorrow, and the sympathy of the community goes out to her. The child fell a victim to cholera infantum and was ill but a few hours. The body was shipped to Vanceburg, where interment will be made Saturday.

BOLD ROBBERY

In broad daylight a sneak-thief entered the home of Mrs. Sidney Hart, residing at 1006 Gallia street, and boldly departed with her daughter, Miss Mabel Hart's pocket-book, which contained $3.25. The pocket-book was in a handbag left lying on the dining-room table, but the thief did not take the handbag. Mrs. Hart stated Friday that she was only out of her dining-room a few moments, but during her absence an unknown thief entered her home and left with her daughter's pocket-book, which contained several trinkets in addition to $3.25.

Damaged Garage

While driving his new Overland machine into the F. B. Bower garage at Ninth and John streets at 8:30 Thursday evening, Morris Ball, son of Judge Harry Ball of Franklin avenue figured in an accident as a fender struck the door with sufficient force to break one of the windows in the west half of the front of the building. The door was loosened, but very little damage resulted to the machine.

Look For Elopers Up At Sciotoville

The police received a message from Chief W. O. Porter, of Sciotoville, located the couple's trunks soon after he was asked to assist in the search for the runaways and their early capture is expected. Officer Dennis Burns went to Sciotoville about 9:30 o'clock to join Daniels in his search for the pair.

Thirteen Piers Go Up In Two Months

Since June 1st the Dravo Contracting Company, building piers for the C. & O. Northern bridge over the Ohio river at Sciotoville, has built thirteen piers on the Kentucky side of the bridge. There remains to complete the pier work one pier on top of the bank and the large shore pier. High water has stopped work on the bank pier several times. There are only three of the large piers, one in the middle of the river and one on each shore.

The heavy fill through the Kentucky bottom land to the hill is being made by W. W. Bosley and Company. The fill comes to the last pier of the bridge. The fill, one of the biggest of the whole route, is about three miles in length and brings the track out from Elmville to the bridge. The Dravo Contracting Co. will have all their work complete by September, all work on the Ohio side being completed several months ago.

Foot Is Improving

Louis Snyder, undertaker, Wheelersburg, who underwent a successful operation for blood-poison of his right foot several days ago, is getting along nicely. Several weeks ago Mr. Snyder scratched a sore on his foot and a few days later a pimple appeared and he scratched it open. The physician stated that he poisoned the pimple with his finger-nail. Snyder is under the care of Miss Edna Boyer, trained nurse.

The Movies

Charley Chaplin
And Big Bargain Program
Columbia Tonight

For tonight's program, Manager Tynes announces another of those big bargain programs he has been offering his patrons at the popular Columbia, consisting of five reels of high class picture entertainment.

The headliner is "The Criminal," a three reel Broadway Star feature, powerfully acted and elegantly produced with Maurice Costello, Norma Talmadge and an all-star cast of the cream of Vitagraph actors.

Two good comedies are also on tomorrow's program, one of which is Charley Chaplin in a regular riot entitled "His Favorite Pastime."

Remember the Columbia is showing big bargain programs and the very cream of feature pictures every day and you can't fail to see a good "show" at the Columbia any day in the week.

They're Not All Hearty Laughers. "I have no doubt," ruminates Sackville McKnutt, "that the man with a smile can't help but work his way up rung by rung, as we read every once in a while, but when I note the sinister countenance of some bosses I have met I wonder how they got their jobs."—Kansas City Star.

EMPTY CRADLES THE WORST WAR HORROR, SAYS THIS EXPERT

Professor Irving Fisher.

"War's real tragedy lies not in wrecked cathedrals, filled graves or gutted treasure boxes," says Professor Irving Fisher of Yale, the greatest of America's authorities on wealth and vitality. "It lies in empty cradles—the empty cradles of the coming generation."

MAY HAVE CLUE TO "HI YALLER"

G. C. Robinson, a police officer of Jenkins, Letcher county, Ky., is in the city conferring with the police officials regarding Henry Gleum, alias "High Yaller," the alleged gunman in the Baucus murder case. Robinson is said to possess a good clue as to the whereabouts of the fugitive negro, but before acting wanted to satisfy himself about certain things in connection with the man wanted. Letcher county is in the extreme southeastern part of Kentucky and bordering on the Cumberland mountains.

SEEK NEW LOCATION

The Conger Printing company, whose plant has been located on Front street west of Court for the past three years, may be moved to the room in the Turkey block just vacated by the Liberty Clothing company.

Ledley Conger, of the firm, admitted Friday that the firm was casting about for an uptown location and was figuring seriously on taking over the Turkey room, but the negotiations have not been closed.

Co. K Boys Show Up Well At Camp

Camp Willis, July 23—Today was a busy day. A five-mile hike was accomplished in the afternoon. It had been scheduled for morning, but rain prevented the men from going out. A provisional regiment, was formed of all the non-commissioned officers of the regiment. The K boys did mighty well and the whole drill was pronounced a great success by the commanding officer. This was in the nature of a preparation for the heavy work on Friday and Saturday.

NOTES.
Private C. B. Anderson, who has been acting as company clerk, was given his sergeant's stripes. He will make a "peach."

Private Leonard M. Scott has been promoted to the rank of corporal, vice Penix.
Guard duty for Co. K tonight in the rain. It came as a big and welcome surprise. Sergeants Wood, Padon and Matthews are detailed with 27 men. Capt. Smith is officer of the day and Lieutenant Morelow is officer of the guard. Lieutenant Harshin is commanding officer of the company.

MEXICANS MAY GET STAY OF EXECUTION

Phoenix, Ariz., July 30—By vouching his own order, denying a writ of habeas corpus in the case of the four Mexicans condemned to hang today in the state prison at Phoenix, Judge McAllister, of the superior court, opened the way for an appeal to the state supreme court which will serve as a stay of execution at least until September, when that tribunal convenes.

Action was taken by the court after it was shown that his earlier order denying the writ of habeas corpus yesterday prevented an attempt that would act as a stay of execution. The Mexicans were charged with the murder of four white persons at Ray, Arizona. A reprieve was granted last May—only a short time before the date set for the hangings, on the request of W. J. Bryan, at that time secretary of state. An appeal previously has been taken in the case of the fifth condemned Mexican.

SPRAGUE'S NURSE BILL IS TO BE LAW MONDAY

Columbus, July 30—Preliminary notices to carry out the provisions of the new nurses' registration law were sent out today by the state medical board. The law will go into effect Monday, and nurses who desire the title "R. N.," standing for "Registered Nurse," will have to file with the medical board between that time and January 1, their diplomas and also applications on blanks. These blanks, the board had ready today. Examinations would be required after the first of next year. The examination fee is $10.

Nurses' organizations fought for such a law before the last legislature in order to place Ohio nurses on a par with members of the profession in other states where a system of registration and regulation of nurses is maintained. Graduates of recognized training schools will not have to take examinations for registration, providing they file their diplomas and comply with other formal requirements before January 1. A preliminary conditional certificate would be required of all applicants not matriculated in a recognized training school before May 1, 1915. Exemption from the necessity of examination will be granted to students matriculated in recognized training schools before May 1 and who graduate and apply to the board for registration before June 1, 1915. The law permits reciprocity with other states which maintain equal standards.

The nurses' registration law bears the name of Representative William R. Sprague, of Portsmouth, O., as author.

Wonderful Books.
Except a living man, there is nothing more wonderful than a book—a message to us from the dead—from human souls whom we never saw, who lived, perhaps, thousands of miles away, and yet these, on those little sheets of paper, speak to us, amuse us, vivify us, teach us, comfort us, open their hearts to us as brothers.—Charles Kingsley.

SULLIVAN HIT BY HIS INVESTIGATOR

James M. Sullivan.

The resignation last week of James M. Sullivan, minister to Santo Domingo, came as the consequence of an investigation conducted by Senator Phelan of California into the minister's unfitness for his office. The findings, made public a few days ago, were unfavorable to Sullivan.
